

Speedy Progress Is Made At Trial Of Bennett Couple

Jury Is Selected and Six Witnesses Are Examined During Day of Hearing at Chattanooga.

CARPENTER TELLS OF FINDING BONES

Alleged Skeleton of Defendant's Aunt Placed on Improvised Stretcher Before Desk of Judge.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Chattanooga, Tenn., March 23.—With an assembly of bones, alleged by the state to represent the skeleton of Miss Augusta Hoffman, resting on an improvised stretcher in front of the judge's desk, W. H. Bennett, of Rome, Ga., and Mrs. Mac Bennett, his wife, went on trial here today.

Bennett, a railway official on leave of absence pending disposition of the charges against him and his wife, were indicted by a Hamilton county grand jury on a charge of murdering Miss Hoffman, Bennett's aunt.

At the close of the opening day of the trial, six witnesses had been examined, representing progress far beyond the expectations of court officials. It had been suggested that the first day would be occupied in choosing the jury.

Jury Quickly Chosen

The defense, however, accepted the jurors as they were passed by the state. The attorney general challenged only three. A dozen were excused for cause by the court. Given the approval of the state's attorneys, the defense counsel waived the jurors into the box without a question. The panel was thus filled in minutes when hours had been forecast.

Much testimony was placed in the record and exhibits of various articles were identified by one or more of the half dozen witnesses on the stand during the day.

Outlines State Contentions

Outlining the state's contentions in the case, Attorney General Chamlee announced that the prosecution will attempt to prove that Miss Augusta Hoffman disappeared while living with the family of W. H. Bennett in Chattanooga. He outlined the testimony to be offered in connection with finding of bones under the house occupied by the Bennetts during their stay of two years or more in Chattanooga, and said that the state will attempt to show that certain articles of wearing apparel, jewelry and other things found in the vicinity of the body were the property of Miss Hoffman, not in Chattanooga since early in 1915, he said.

Judge M. M. Allison, of counsel for the defense, reserved an exception to the attorney general's statement, and said that his clients would be content to repeat their statement "not guilty."

Testimony About Bones

Most of the testimony introduced by the state during the day was concerned with the finding of the bones under the basement floor of

PILOT OF AIRPLANE AND HIS MECHANIC BACK AT WAYCROSS

Waycross, Ga., March 23.—Exhausted from wandering in the Okefenokee swamp since Saturday, when his airplane fell, Bonnie G. Rowe, pilot of the wrecked machine, made his way into Waycross late this afternoon.

Hal Taylor, mechanic of the plane, arrived in Waycross late tonight. He was worn from his experience while in the Okefenokee swamp. He had the plane was a total wreck. Rowe was so exhausted after his experience of the last 40 hours that he could give little information concerning the accident. He and Taylor were flying to Jacksonville, Fla., from Waycross at the time of the crash.

Word that the airplane pilot was missing was received this morning by the flying circus at Jacksonville. It immediately set a search for the plane begun. But searchers who combed the big swamp got no trace of a machine. Then Rowe appeared.

Rowe stated that he had been wandering in the swamp for two days, without food and unable to find his way out.

The pilot was completely exhausted and was unable to give a coherent account of what happened. Rowe is under the care of physicians.

EVOLUTION BARRED IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF SISTER STATE

Governor Peay, of Tennessee Signs Bill, Making It Unlawful To Teach Darwinian Theory

Nashville, Tenn., March 23.—Tennessee today rang down the curtain on the Darwin-Huxley drama, when Governor Austin Peay signed a bill passed by the general assembly, casting into disarray the theory of evolution.

The bill bars the teaching of evolution from the public schools, normal schools and colleges of the state. The governor, in a message to the legislature accompanying the signed bill, declaring evolution "at variance with the teachings of man's creation as related in the Bible."

The governor defended his decision by declaring that the bill, conceived by Representative J. W. Butler, of Lafayette, Tenn., represented a "distinct protest against an irreligious tendency to exhibit so-called science, and deny the Bible in some schools and quarters—a tendency fundamentally wrong and fatally mischievous in its effects on our children, our institutions and our country."

Message Is Quoted

"The bill contravenes neither 'freedom of religion' nor 'strict separation of church and state,' the governor said, these being 'fixed principles in this country.' It is 'manifestly impossible,' the message continued, 'for our school system to omit all attention to the Bible and to wholly ignore it when the governor reasoned, the Bible is 'His Holy Word, directly governing our relationship to the future state of rewards and punishments.'"

"Nobody will deny," the message said, "that the Holy Bible teaches that man was created by God in His own image. This bill is founded in the idea and belief that the very integrity of the Bible in its statement of man's divine creation is denied by any theory that man descended or had descended from any lower order of animals. That such theory is at utter variance with the Bible story of man's creation, is incapable of successful contradiction."

The new act makes it unlawful for any teacher in the universities, normal schools, or other schools of the state, which obtain state funds, "to teach

TWO HURT AS GAS TRUCK HITS POST

A. L. Blanton Badly Injured, Taken to Grady. Gasoline Bathes Peachtree Road Monday Night

Two men narrowly escaped death and a section of Peachtree road was bathed in gasoline Monday night when a Continental Oil company truck crashed into a telephone post and turned over. The post, severed at the base, fell across the machine.

A. L. Blanton, 23, of 23 Ponders avenue, who was riding on the truck at the time of the accident, was rushed to Grady hospital in a semi-conscious condition. He is suffering from several ugly bruises and lacerations, with possible internal injuries and fractured skull.

Ray Mann, who Blanton states was driving the machine, was taken to the Davis-Eischer hospital. He was dismissed after his injuries were dressed.

Mann told bystanders, following the accident, that he had turned his machine sharply to one side to avoid striking another car and was unable to right it before crashing into the post. The accident occurred in front of 1830 Peachtree road.

More than 200 gallons of gasoline gushed over the street from the overturned truck, it was said, and a street cleaning machine, dispatched by the sanitary department of the city, hurried to the scene and washed the streets while the fire department and county police stood guard.

TANNER KILLED GUS TARBUTTON WITNESS SAYS

Six Witnesses Testify at First Day of Trial as Man Begins Fight for His Life Before Jury.

RAWLINGS NABBED AFTER INDICTMENT

Rawlings Is Expected To Face Jury on Murder Count After Tanner; Accidental Shot Claimed

Wrightsville, Ga., March 23.—Six witnesses were heard today in the trial of J. J. Tanner, charged with murder in connection with the killing of Gus A. Tarbutton more than a month ago. Tanner was jointly indicted with C. G. Rawlings, Tarbutton's business partner, but the state elected to try them separately. Rawlings, whose whereabouts had been unknown to the state since he was indicted a week ago, appeared here this morning. Tonight he was taken into custody by the sheriff of Johnson county.

The most sensational testimony of the day came from the lips of Noah Covington, who testified at the preliminary hearing here. Covington said he was at a spring drinking when he heard voices. Looking up, he said he saw three men coming up over the top of the hill. Tarbutton was in front, Tanner next and Rawlings bringing up the rear.

Story of Shooting

Covington testified just as he did at the preliminary hearing that he saw Tanner raise his double-barreled shotgun to his shoulder and fire. Then Tanner dropped to his knees, he said. Covington said that he saw J. C. Alexander drive up. He told how Alexander had talked with Tarbutton and then crossed through the edge of the woods and left the scene.

Alexander, on the witness stand, the last witness of the day, corroborated the testimony of Covington.

Alexander said that he came here to see Tarbutton, because of a dispute over a land line. He said that he found Tarbutton at the first hole that he alleged to have been dug in a hunt for kaolin and bauxite deposits.

He told of leaving, just as Covington said that he left.

The first witness of the day was Louis Stephens, negro, who dug the hole around which so much mystery was attached. The negro said that he was exploring for bauxite deposits.

The negro, on direct testimony, said that he went to Tarbutton when the latter fell, wounded, and picked up the shotgun that lay four feet away. He removed the empty shell and a loaded shell from the gun, he said.

Woman Tells Story

Mrs. T. I. Young and her husband, T. I. Young, were next witnesses, describing conditions at the scene of the shooting when they arrived there, after being summoned by one of the negroes. They told of carrying away the body of Tarbutton to his home.

Dr. H. D. Bray, who examined the body, expressed the opinion that it was impossible for the shooting to have been accidental. He said that the charge of shot that entered Tarbutton's head ranged upward.

Dr. S. M. Johnson's testimony corroborated that of Dr. Bray.

Court adjourned at 7 o'clock to

Man Who Wed Atlanta Girl Escapes Trial

McDermott Placed in Psychopathic Ward—Miss Lawrence Home.

Mare Colburn McDermott, Minneapolis, Minn., salesman, indicted by a federal grand jury in Atlanta on a charge of white slavery in connection with his marriage to pretty Rebekah Lawrence, Atlanta girl, winner of several local beauty contests, has been ordered to a psychopathic ward in Chicago for observation according to a statement made in Atlanta Monday by Miss Lawrence.

McDermott was identified in Chicago Friday by Miss Lawrence as the man who accompanied her to Chattanooga, Tenn., after a whirlwind courtship and married her in that city. Later McDermott confessed to Miss Lawrence that he had a wife prior to his marriage to the Atlanta girl, it was charged. Miss Lawrence is the central figure in the Deans will case which is now in the course of litigation in the Fulton superior court.

Miss Lawrence said the federal commissioner in Chicago declined to sign a removal order allowing the federal officers to bring McDermott to Atlanta to stand trial on the white slavery charge. The commissioner based this action on a plea entered by the defendant's lawyer to the effect that McDermott was insane and knew nothing of taking a trip to Atlanta in January. Miss Lawrence

Two Georgia Tots Charged With Murder of Playmate

BOY, 9, REPORTED TO HAVE CONFESSED CRIME

Athens, Ga., March 23.—(Special.) Escoe Graham, 9, and Mary Belle Graham, 11, who claim to have been in bed with Guy Graham, 7, when he was slain last week, and who accused a negro in the Elbert county jail with the crime, are in Madison county jail at Danielsville charged with murder.

The two children were arrested Sunday by Sheriff W. H. Hall, of Danielsville, and after the boy was reported to have confessed to having killed his playmate and cousin accidentally. The confession is said to have been made to George Duffie, a neighbor.

When the sheriff went to the home of Alvin Graham, half-brother of the two children and stepfather of the child who was killed, they are said to have told him that a white man killed the little boy.

Guy Graham, son of Mrs. Graham by another marriage, was killed last Monday while the children are said to have been in bed together. The parents, it is said, were in the field at work. According to Escoe Graham and the little girl, a negro man killed Guy, using a shotgun that was kept behind the door in the bedroom, where the children were. A negro, Henry Woodie, arrested in Elberton last week on a charge of burglary, was said to have confessed to killing a little boy in Madison county and Sheriff Hall took the children to Elberton in an effort to identify him. They stated positively he was the man when the sheriff brought them before Woodie and another negro.

Deputy Sheriff Seymour, of Elberton, declared from the first that Woodie could not have committed the crime, as he was in Elberton county at the time the slaying is said to have occurred.

TRIAL OF CHAPMAN TO PROVIDE 'SHOW' FOR ALL HARTFORD

Staid Old Connecticut Capital Excited As It Has Not Been Since Founding in 1636.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Hartford, Conn., March 23.—General Chapman, soft-spoken, deft-witted "Count of Granary Square," will go on trial for his life tomorrow.

The most notorious and daring of the country's criminals—some of his patient and numerous police pursues call him the Twentieth Century edition of Jesse James—is to appear in Hartford county superior court to answer to an indictment for the murder last October of Patrolman James J. Skelly, of New Britain.

The city of Hartford never has had such a sense of suppressed excitement since the city's foundation in 1636. For days now, "the Chapman trial" has been the morning, noon and night conversation of the entire city and of most of the usually staid county.

Trial Will Be Show

Consequently, the trial of the glamorous "super-bandit" is to be very much in the nature of a show, grim through it may be. Thousands want to attend, but hundreds only may be seated in the court room over which the trial judge, Newell Jennings, presides. A large force of police will be present to handle the crowds.

The police have a wholesome respect for Chapman's well-advised past of mail banditry, safe-cracking, prison-breaks and quick work with a gun. He will be brought from jail shackled, with two armed guards seated on either side of him in a closed car. Another car bearing armed guards will be the prisoner's motor closely. At the court building, Chapman will enter between two lines of police.

Very Closely Guarded

Chapman is the most closely guarded man in criminal history in these parts. Since his arrest in Munich, Ind., in January, his return to the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, and his subsequent return to the Connecticut authorities, the spectacular bandit never has been out of sight of his keepers. In solitary confinement, he was given no exercise in the open air. But two men—the warden and one of his deputies—saw him in person, with the exception of his chief counsel, Frederick J. Groehl, of New York.

The deputy warden prepared and served the prisoner's meals. Through out every hour of the day or night, eyes peered at him through a fine mesh screen that surrounded the cell and watched him as he slept or paced or read or ate.

Chapman is reported to have taken the whole thing calmly enough. He refused to have anything to say to his keepers, breaking his silence only for his lawyer's rare calls. He read hour

THRONGS FILL CITY CHURCHES AT BIG REVIVAL

Ninety-One Protestant Evangelical Denominations Are Cooperating in Atlanta-Wide Campaign.

CENTRAL MEETING SERIES ANNOUNCED

Progress of Religious Appeal and Conditions Confronting Churches in City To Be Discussed.

Encouraged by reports of overflow meetings in churches and public places, officials directing the city-wide revival in which 91 Protestant evangelical churches are participating, Monday announced they had decided to hold three great general meetings in which progress of the religious appeal and conditions confronting the church will be discussed openly.

The meetings will be held in the First Baptist church, the first on Monday, March 30, the second on Monday, April 6, and the last on Monday, April 13. All of the meetings will begin at 11:30 o'clock, and accession to membership will be reported and problems confronting the various churches and denominations will be discussed.

Big Crowds Present

Monday found a spirit of militant optimism in evidence among members and active laymen of the various denominations. Thousands turned out for services Monday afternoon and Monday night, and James Morton, secretary of the committee on church cooperation, stated that the swelling crowds gave evidence of the fact that the effect of the general religious offensive was being felt in every part of the city.

Numerous churches participating are conducting services under direction of nationally known evangelists from all parts of the south and every church in the entire group has launched a program of special meetings to last through the campaign.

At Edgewood Baptist church Dr. Ray Palmer, St. Louis Baptist evangelist, is conducting services with the assistance of the pastor, Rev. L. B. Cantford.

Dr. Palmer was for five years evangelist for the home board of the Southern Baptist convention and prior to that time was a member of the staff of Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, famous evangelist. He has held pulpits in Portland, Ore., Stockton, Calif., and Jefferson City, Mo., and has conducted revivals in 40 states. He recently returned from a trip abroad during which he preached in London, Edinburgh and other cities.

Reports From Baptists

Twenty-six Baptist churches represented at a meeting Monday reported that upwards of 10,000 persons attended the Sunday services at those churches while other denominations made similar gratifying reports. Special services in seven Presbyterian churches will be under way before the end of the week.

Among the largest Sunday meetings was that held in the Peachtree Arcade at 4 o'clock when Rev. L. Wilkie, of Birmingham, Ala., addressed a throng which filled the building, on the subject, "The Prodigal Son."

Dr. Luke Rader spoke Sunday before an audience of nearly 1,200 persons on the subject, "What's Back of Success." At the close of this service 15 persons professed faith in Christ.

Debt Burden Causes Corry To Try Death

Atlanta Salesman Is Found by Officer—Victim Dying at Grady.

Z. W. Corry, 38, of 182 Wellington avenue, a traveling salesman for a local tobacco firm of the city, Monday afternoon was found by County Policeman Frank Donehoo with his throat slashed and in a dying condition. His automobile was parked on Simpson road, near the Hightower road, and Corry's body was found about 100 feet from the road.

According to a statement by Corry, he inflicted the wounds in his throat with a knife and a razor, both of which were found on the ground near the automobile.

The Blanchard-Gartrell company was called and an ambulance was sent to the scene. Corry was taken to Grady hospital, where physicians state that there is little hope for his recovery.

In a statement written by Corry, found in his pocket, he asserted that "debt was the cause of it all." The note was dated 8 o'clock and it is believed that he had inflicted the wounds early in the morning.

"He has been a valuable and faithful employee of our company and has served us for 15 years," stated W. C. Carlton, secretary of the company.

Husband Arrested On Alleged Threat To Slay His Wife

Prisoner Killed Her Father and Now Seeks Her Own Life, Mrs. Underwood Tells Police.

UNDERWOOD DENIES BEATING HIS WIFE

Walter B. Underwood, 20-year-old mechanic, of Courtland street, who, according to his estranged wife, shot to death her father in Chattanooga, Tenn., last August, Monday night was arrested on the complaint of Mrs. Underwood, and held in default of a $1,000 bond. He was acquitted at his trial in Chattanooga.

Underwood was arrested after a lively automobile chase as he walked into a trap set by Detectives L. D. Cody and J. C. Mosley, which began near his wife's home, 76 Stewart avenue, and ended on McDaniel street in the Pittsburgh district. During this chase, Underwood, officers charge, threw an automatic pistol from his car. The weapon was recovered.

"It was the same pistol that he showed me last Saturday night when he threatened to mete out the same fate to me that he did to my father in Chattanooga," Mrs. Venice Thomas Underwood, the pretty 23-year-old wife, told the police.

Separate After Killing

According to Mrs. Underwood, she and her husband separated shortly after he shot and killed her father, Albert Thomas, in their Highland Park home, located at 2006 Union avenue, in Chattanooga, on August 6, 1924. "He killed my father without provocation of any kind—simply because Dad wouldn't allow him to abuse me," Mrs. Underwood said.

Underwood, his wife said, was acquitted when tried for the murder of her father. She stated that she was the only eye-witness to the shooting, and under the law was not permitted to testify.

According to the alleged threat Underwood made against his wife Monday was to be her last day to live. "I will kill you even though I hang or be electrocuted," she said Underwood told her.

The Underwoods have been married eight years. Mrs. Underwood said. They have two little children—a 7-year-old daughter, Opal, and a 4-year-old son, Haven.

Files Divorce Suit

Mrs. Underwood filed her suit for divorce in Chattanooga and came to Atlanta, she stated, to get rid of her husband and his continued annoyances. "He threatened my life in Tennessee and annoyed me continuously by sending me messages, slipping around and spying on me, she charged.

Mrs. Underwood came to Atlanta to live at the home of her stepfather, R. C. Singleton, the first part of last January. Her husband followed her here a few days after she arrived, she said, and has been a daily source of annoyance, either by telephone calls, or visits to the home, or "camping near the place—frequently coming up to the back door and hiding beneath her bedroom window."

Last Saturday night Underwood forced his wife into a waiting taxicab at Peachtree and Cain streets, she said, and directed the driver to carry them "far into the country." They drove beyond Buckhead, where he beat her and subjected her to many

FORMER PREMIER SCORES VICTORY

Thrust at British Seen as Egyptian Parliament Is Dissolved After Electing Zagloul Pasha.

Cairo, Egypt, March 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Egyptian parliament, which had ceased to exist by 8 o'clock this evening, the session was probably the shortest in the history of Egypt.

The collapse was considered a striking victory for former Premier Zagloul Pasha, who has maintained that the results in the recent elections afforded his opponents no justification for forming a government.

The end came with dramatic suddenness. After Zagloul had been elected to the presidency of the chamber, the house adjourned to reassemble at 5 o'clock. Zagloul presided, but not one member of the ministry was present. The house had elected two followers of Zagloul as vice presidents of the chamber and was proceeding to the election of other officers when Premier Ziwir Pasha entered, followed by his ministers, who had been holding a council. Ziwir read a decree dissolving parliament.

Under the decree, new elections will be held May 23 and the new parliament will be opened June 1. There was much excitement as the deputies left the chamber, but no untoward incidents occurred.

CALL WITNESSES IN PRISON PROBE

The federal grand jury will convene today and Wednesday will resume an investigation of alleged bribery conditions at the federal prison, it was stated Monday. United States District Attorney Clint W. Hager announced he had summoned about a dozen witnesses to appear at the session of the grand jury Wednesday.

In the list are George Remus, Cincinnati, Ohio; Willie Haas, Savannah; C. C. Tuten, and Mannie Kessler, New York, wealthy bootleggers who are serving sentences in the federal prison. These convicts are now in the prison at Athens having been transferred to that city following the removal of former Warden A. E. Sartain and his deputy, L. J. Fletcher, who were tried on charges of accepting bribes to grant special privileges to prisoners. Lawrence Riehl, Columbus, Ohio, also was charged with bribery. Activity of Father Thomas P. Hayden, former Catholic chaplain at the prison, who was the star witness for the government in the prosecution of Sartain and Fletcher, will be investigated according to federal officials. Sartain was convicted in the bribery case while Fletcher was acquitted. Sartain was released under bond pending an appeal. Riehl was convicted but also appealed his case. Sheriff Walter F. Jackson, of Clarke county, was served with habeas corpus papers Monday requiring him to bring Remus, Haas, Tuten and Kessler to Atlanta Wednesday to appear before the federal jury.

District Attorney Hager said the men probably would remain here several days.

Flood of Letters On Hughes Case Continues Monday

Letters, urging or opposing clemency for Mrs. Ida Hughes, condemned to hang in Fulton tower on April 24 for the murder of her mother-in-law, continue to pour into the office of Governor Walker. The final appeal of the slayer has been refused by the supreme court and her only hope now rests in the governor, who will be asked to commute the sentence to life imprisonment after the case has been heard by the state prison commission and that body has made its recommendations. The commission is scheduled to hear the plea during the first week in April.

Among the letters received Monday was one from W. T. Knox, superintendent of schools at Social Circle, opposing clemency and urging that "until the legislature does away with the death penalty for murder," the pardoning power not be allowed "to bully the law."

"Precedent and sex do not matter," said Mr. Knox. Rev. G. L. Hickman, Atlanta evangelist, wrote the governor pleading for clemency for Mrs. Hughes. "What this old world needs today is love. Love for one another. Love our neighbor as ourselves; yes, love our enemies as Christ loved His enemies," said Mr. Hickman. The evangelist stated that it is not because Mrs. Hughes is a woman that he urges clemency, but because "it is hard for a man or woman to receive justice now."

He added that "sex ought to be lost sight of when it comes to the enforcement of law."

J. Frazier Marsh, of the Southern Cotton Oil company, Atlanta office, urging clemency, said: "I have never been able to feel that the verdict rendered was consistent with circumstances under which the crime was committed, and I am glad to see that the trial judge's views are much the same as my own."

Continuing, he said: "I feel that your exercise of clemency in this case would prevent a blot being placed upon the fair name of our state."

Rev. J. Gordon Jones, signing as a member of the Elbert County Law Enforcement league and as an official of the North Georgia Methodist conference, urged commutation. "Mrs. Hughes is a poor, ignorant woman, who acted with extreme provocation," he wrote.

A petition signed by all officials of Cherokee county, South Carolina, and a number of other citizens of that county, was filed Monday with the governor, begging that he extend executive clemency to Mrs. Hughes.

Prominent Belgian Paper Manufacturer Visitor at Capitol

Arkadius Gumbourg, of Brussels, Belgium, visited the office of Governor Walker Monday. The governor called in executives of various state departments to meet the distinguished visitor.

Mr. Gumbourg, who stopped in Atlanta en route to Mexico, is a large paper manufacturer of Belgium and is one of the most prominent manufacturers of that country. He manufactures paper out of cotton waste, he stated, by a process not generally used in this country. The governor suggested that he should look into the possibilities in establishing such a factory in Georgia and he said that he probably would follow this suggestion as soon as possible.

Mr. Gumbourg was the guest of J. B. McCrary while in Atlanta. He is a vice president of the Chamber of Commerce of Mexico, and a director of the Belgian-Latin American chamber of commerce.

Twelve Boys and Girls Will Enter LaGrange School Oratorical Contest

Members of the senior class of LaGrange High school who will compete for the honor of representing the school in the district contest to be held on April 10.

Interest is increasing daily as the last day approaches for holding local school contests in the national oratorical competition, which is sponsored in Georgia by The Constitution and the State High School association, and nationally by the American Bar association.

In many of the towns and cities of the state, local organizations have offered special prizes to the winners, in addition to the awards offered by the district and state winners by The Constitution, and for zone and national winners by the American Bar association.

Twelve members of the senior class at LaGrange High have prepared orations on one of the eight subjects dealing with the federal constitution as provided in the rules of the contest. There are seven boys and five girls in this group, and it is entirely possible that one of them will eventually go to Washington to take part in the national finals to pick the champion high-school orator of the nation, which will be held on May 8.

The Constitution is offering prizes of $15 each to the 12 winners in the Georgia district contests, as well as first and second prizes of $100 and $20 in the state finals. District winners are eligible for the state finals, state winners for the zone finals—the held, for this zone, at Nashville, Tenn., on May 1—and zone winners for the national finals.

Subjects of the orations, which must be original and not over 10 minutes in delivery time, are the federal constitution itself, or the relationship thereof of Washington, Jefferson, Hamilton, Madison, Marshall, Webster or Lincoln.

Capper's Views.

In speaking of this national oratorical contest recently, United States Senator Capper, of Kansas, said: "These oratorical contests will certainly result in leading the minds of people back to the fundamental principles on which our government rests. The national oratorical contest on the constitution, viewed from what it accomplished last year and what it will accomplish in the future, must be ranked as one of the great constructive movements of our time."

"It will have one result which even the newspaper sponsors themselves have probably not fully realized. It has placed a definite stamp of 'news value' upon governmental topics which the press has heretofore generally regarded as worthy of space only in campaign times. In such times, of course, partisanship is rife."

"This movement will, undoubtedly, do much to make serious governmental discussion more common. It will, in other words, it will direct public attention to basic governmental problems in precisely the period in which they are generally ignored. It is in such between-campaign considerations of the broad questions of government that the best and calmest thinking can be done."

Shortridge Praises Contest.

Senator Shortridge, of California, said the following about the national oratorical contest:

"The national oratorical contest on the constitution is entitled to widespread support. Nothing is more important at this time than intelligent and patriotic citizenship. This movement should be doubly effective in that it will help thousands of young people during their formative period to become acquainted with and attached to the basic principles of the American government."

"For years we in this country have been too eager to look abroad for our ideals of perfection, in art, government, literature and, in fact, almost every line of human endeavor except business; and yet many of the most acute minds in Europe realize and have, for a decade or more, realized that future world leadership rests with the United States."

"In addition, the eyes of Europe have long been directed anxiously toward our political system with its nice balancing of governmental strength and individual rights. It is only here at home that we have been ignorant of the value of our chief treasure—sound government—a treasure all the more remarkable in that it multiplies the value of all the other treasures that a people may possess or aspire to."

George Fullerton, Noted Philosopher, Commits Suicide

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., March 23.—The gradual decay of one of the most brilliant minds among eastern college faculties was halted Monday when Professor George Fullerton committed suicide here at his home.

Fullerton was an internationally known student of philosophy. He had written learned books on the subject and was a member of the philosophy department at Columbia university. Recently he had been a lecturer of Vassar. His self-inflicted death was traced to the fact that he could not control his own mind and sufficiently shake off a despondency which had fallen heavily upon him since he suffered severe privations in a German internment camp during the war.

Fullerton's mental condition for the last few years had caused members of his family to keep a constant watch over his activities. Monday he was alone for a few minutes while his wife was out shopping. Taking a towel clothes line, the professor fashioned a crude gallows in his study doorway, climbed upon a chair and jumped off. The discovery of the hanging in the household a few feet were near enough the floor so that he could have touched it and it is believed that his neck was broken instantly by the light noise.

START NEW TRIAL FOR DR. EDWARDS

Bessemer, March 23.—Testimony that Dr. George T. Edwards was not on good terms with his wife, whom he is accused of killing last December, was offered today by Mrs. W. L. Whetstone, of Montgomery, sister of the slain woman, at the opening of the second trial of the physician on a charge of wife murder. The first trial resulted in a mistrial, with 11 jurors for acquittal and one for conviction.

Mrs. Whetstone testified that Mrs. Edwards and two children visited her in Montgomery for a week last November, and that Mrs. Edwards appeared unhappy, nervous and cried frequently. She testified that Mrs. Edwards, a few days before she was slain, received a letter from her husband, telling her to come home at once. This letter was thrown in the fire by Mrs. Edwards after being read, Mrs. Whetstone said.

The defense objected to the testi-

CENTRAL CHURCH MEMBERS RAISE $62,000 IN DAY

Subscriptions totaling nearly $62,000 were pledged Sunday by 804 members and friends of the Central Presbyterian church to the $75,000 campaign for church expenses, following a four-minute address by Marion M. Jackson, who stressed the example set in church service by the late John J. Egan.

The first day of the drive—Sunday—met with the most remarkable and unusual response in the church's history. Mr. Jackson declared Monday.

Many of Mrs. Whetstone on the grounds that she was in court and heard all of the testimony in the former trial. She did not testify at that time. She was the only witness introduced in the case today.

Dr. Edwards claims that his wife was slain, and he himself shot in the hand by an intruder into the home. The state claims that the killing was an "inside" job. A revolver and a bottle of drug figured in the former trial. The physician at the time of the killing was a member of the staff of the Fairfield hospital.

April 21, he will speak at the meeting of the Associated Press in New York city, and he will address the Gridiron club in Washington, April 23.

3 SOVIET OFFICIALS KILLED IN AIR CRASH

Moscow, March 23.—A Reuter dispatch says five were killed when a military airplane flying from Tiflis to Suchum caught fire in midair and crashed to earth.

A later message stated three of the killed were government officials and the other two pilots of the machine.

The three officials killed were M. Minsnikof, member of the presidium of the union of Soviet Republics, member of the military revolutionary council and vice president of the council of people's commissars; M. Mogilievski, president of the extraordinary transcaucasian commission, and A. Arakeloff, representative of the posts and telegraphs commission. The transcaucasian officials were on their way to the soviet congress convened at Suchum.

A period of four days' mourning has been proclaimed, the messages add, in all the Caucasian republics.

U. S. SUPREME COURT REJECTS TWO CASES

Washington, March 23.—The supreme court announced today that it would not review the questions presented in the following cases:

The right of a general appraiser or a board of general appraisers to appraise merchandise when samples are not available, as raised by the government in a case against Hamilton, Nicholson & Company, and others, growing out of an importation of raw tomatoes at Miami, Fla.

How damages arising from a loss of market should be measured, as raised by the United States in a case from South Carolina against Middleton & Company, and others, involving the shipment of cotton from Jacksonville, Fla., to Kobe, Japan.

ARMY OF UNEMPLOYED LOCKED UP BY POLICE

Edmonton, Alberta, March 23.—The "army" of 120 unemployed men that started to trek from Calgary to Edmonton to protest against the lack of employment, was locked up in a police station today for forcibly boarding a freight train on which they made the last lap of their journey.

The men started out from Calgary to walk through the country, a distance of 196 miles, by when they reached Airdre, 20 miles north of Calgary, they found the roads covered with snow. Then they boarded a Canadian Pacific freight train in spite of the crew's effort to stop them.

A force of city, provincial and railroad police were waiting for them at the front terminal when the train arrived.

REVIEW FOR GARVEY, IN PEN HERE, REFUSED

Washington, March 23.—The supreme court today declined to review the question whether Marcus Garvey, who called himself the "provisional president of Africa," convicted in New York city, violated the federal laws when he used the mails to promote the sale of stock to negroes in the Black Star line, which he proposed to organize to transport negroes to Africa.

Garvey is now in Atlanta penitentiary and numerous efforts have been made by negro organizations to obtain executive clemency for him.

GIRL IS SIXTH VICTIM OF TENEMENT FLAMES

New York, March 23.—While police and the fire marshal's staff searched the city today for the pyromaniac who started a fire that swept through an east 47th street tenement house yesterday, a sixth victim of the blaze died in a hospital. Sue was Dorothy Gray, six years old, who was found unconscious on the fourth floor of the building, where her mother and her 8-year-old sister were suffocated.

Why do you breathe at sea-level and gasp at 15,000 feet?

Your lungs are adjusted to breathe the air close to the earth. When you climb a high mountain you are surrounded by a different grade of air and your lungs have to readjust themselves before you can breathe properly. Which naturally brings up the question:

Should you always use one brand of gasoline?

YOUR carburetor is the lung of your car. If it is adjusted for a good gas, it stands to reason that it isn't going to work so well if you switch to an inferior grade.

Don't give your motor indigestion by constantly changing its diet.

You'll get more mileage and less trouble by using one gasoline.

By all means buy gas by name

We make no extravagant claims for Pan-Am Gasoline, but you may be certain of a few things whenever you fill your tank from the Pan-Am pump.

Here they are:

1. Pan-Am Gasoline is a straight-run product. This means it has not been blended with by-products to lower its boiling point.

PAN-AMERICAN SOUTHERN PETROLEUM CO.

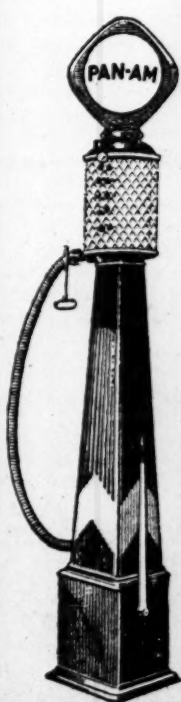

2. It has a low initial boiling point. This insures easy, quick starting (reducing use of choke)—which in turn means less gasoline dripping into the crank-case to dilute the oil.

3. It has an even range of distillation. This means that your explosions are uniform in power—even and steady.

4. Pan-Am Gasoline is uniform. Every gallon you buy, no matter where or when, will be identical in quality with every other gallon you buy.

If that's the kind of gasoline you would like to use, you will find it wherever you see a Pan-Am pump.

More than that—you'll find the right motor oil for your type of motor—and a service that is prompt, attentive, and courteous.

Sound of Hammer and Saw Is Heard in Tornado Belt As Reconstruction Begins

Gloom and Depression Is Fast Disappearing as Citizens Begin Rebuilding Homes and Shops.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Murphysboro, Ill., March 23.—While hearses and ambulances still threaded their way through streets with the dead and injured, the wrecked towns of southern Illinois resounded today to the noise of carpenter's hammers and saws as the work of repairing and rebuilding hundreds of homes, business places and industries wrecked by Wednesday's tornado began.

This Formula, Known as "Vick's Grippe Remedy", (Liquid) Now Available at All Drug Stores. A Few Doses Stops Any Case of Cold, Grippe or Flu.

The after-dinner from colds, grippe or flu is to be feared more than the disease itself, leaving as it does a weakened bronchial tract that is susceptible to serious bronchial or pulmonary breakdown. This new discovery, "Vick's Grippe Remedy" (liquid), not only stops the cold, grippe or flu, but minimizes the possibility of a weakened system afterwards.

No matter how severe the cold, how painful the grippe, how aggravating the flu or how frigid you feel, a few doses of Vick's Grippe Remedy (liquid) will bring almost instant relief.

Aside from being a new formula, in liquid form, the system immediately absorbs it and the very first dose relieves grippish aches and brings a warm, comfortable glow all over the body.

Vick's Grippe Remedy contains a slight laxative, so necessary in treating colds, grippe or flu, but does not contain quinine, so it can be taken without attending to work, indoors or out-of-doors, with no danger of taking a fresh cold. Civic Heads of Atlanta Pledge Their Assistance In "Clean-Up" Campaign

Leaders of City Gather at Chamber Banquet and Discuss Plans for Coordinated Effort.

With all civic organizations and the city government united and determined to clean up Atlanta, civic leaders met Monday night at a banquet as guests of the chamber of commerce to formally launch the city's fifth annual "clean-up and paint-up" campaign. Cooperation of all organizations represented was pledged 100 per cent in a concerted effort to rid the city of every possible source of infection, dirt, uncleanness and disfiguring signs and to urge upon all the people of Atlanta the great need and the many practical benefits to be gained by cooperation in the movement.

While the campaign was officially opened Monday night, the actual stage of "clean-up and paint-up" week will not take place until April 7. In the meantime, committees are to be thoroughly organized and everything put in readiness for waging the most intensive and far-reaching campaign of this kind in Atlanta's history.

Addresses by city officials, leaders of civic organizations, editors of all three Atlanta newspapers and others featured the event. Ben F. Fraser, Jr., chairman of the campaign, presided.

Mayor Sims delivered the welcoming address. He said the city was beginning the campaign by renovating the city hall and challenging the rest of Atlanta to match the city's effort in this particular. He also stated that the auditorium was being put in readiness for opening week.

While the rehabilitation program was well under way tonight, the city was far from free of its difficulties. Isaac K. Levy, general chairman of the relief committee, sent messages to the Russell Sage Foundation, the Rockefeller Foundation and the Henry Ford, asking each to send a representative to make a personal investigation with a view to aiding the town to get on its feet again.

STORM PROPERTY LOSS TO EXCEED $18,000,000.
Chicago, March 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Warm, sunny weather today prevailed over the area in southern Illinois and Indiana devastated by tornadoes last Wednesday, and relief work progressed rapidly along with the burial of the dead and the housing of the homeless.

Rehearsing of the casualty list, with additional deaths from wounds, raised the total dead in some places and reduced the number of others, leaving the total tonight at $10, with out including a score supposed to have been incinerated at Murphysboro, where 150 black and white men were killed and the debris partly buried.

Red Cross workers also announced that the 2,369 listed as hurt probably did not include hundreds of persons who had been injured, but who had failed to report the fact owing to the excitement and necessity of aiding others more severely injured.

The total property loss has not been compiled, but will likely be more than $12,000,000 in Illinois alone, with some $2,000,000 in Missouri, Tennessee and Kentucky, the property loss is likely to exceed $18,000,000. This figure is more serious than its size indicates, for the loss of the loss was sustained by families of moderate circumstances and meant the wiping out of all tangible possessions.

With the arrival of more nurses in the storm area today, it was learned that many persons were probably fatally hurt. Several died of injuries today. Danger of epidemics has probably been avoided, doctors said, by prompt use of serums sent by airplane.

CARBONDALE CHOSEN RELIEF HEADQUARTERS.
Carbondale, Ill., March 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—All relief organizations taking part in the work of rehabilitation in southern Illinois met here today and decided to make this city the general headquarters for the tornado-torn district.

All medical and nursing forces will be quartered here. The city ever since disaster has been the center for the distribution of supplies and will continue to serve as such.

The work of rehabilitation also may be directed from here after the most important work of the nurses has been done.

Supplies, sanitation and health facilities have been done.

MERCHANT MARINE OFFICER SENTENCED FOR ABDUCTION
New York, March 23.—Captain Hubert F. Jennings, a merchant marine officer, was sentenced by Judge McLaughlin in the county court today to serve from five to ten years in Sing Sing prison for abduction.

He pleaded guilty to having taken Anna R. W. Jennings, 14, from this city to Philadelphia, Washington and Norfolk, Va., without the knowledge and consent of her parents.

In an appeal to Assistant District Attorney Gough to intercede in Jennings' behalf, the girl today promised to marry the man should he be released.

TRAMMELL ASKS OIL PRICE PROBE

Washington, March 23.—Senator Trammell, democrat, Florida, whose resolution to investigate the recent rise in the price of gasoline failed of approval at the last session of the senate, today asked the federal trade commission to make an inquiry on its own initiative to determine whether there exists "any combination in violation of and contrary to the anti-trust law."

In a letter to Chairman Thompson, of the commission, Mr. Trammell asserted that a small number of senators, by obstructive tactics, prevented an expression favorable to the investigation on the part of a large majority of the senate. He was confident, he said, that the inquiry would have been requested had the resolution been permitted to come to a vote.

"At the present time, it is my opinion," the letter said, "that such an investigation is highly desirable and essential in the interest of the consumers of gasoline, kerosene, crude oil and other petroleum products."

Second prize went to Mary Ellis Englehart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Englehart, of 40 Home avenue, and first prize to Henry Cheung, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cheung of Ingleside.

The film will be exhibited at every performance this week in addition to the regular motion picture and vaudeville program.

The Jackie Coogan screen test was held on the occasion of the presentation of the famous child star in "The Rag Man." Maybe your teeth are gloriously clear, simply clouded with a film coat. Make this remarkable test and find out.

The most beautiful teeth in the world

A smile that allures with dazzling whiteness

Do you want them? Then please accept this remarkable dental test—the new method leading dentists are urging. You simply remove the dingy film that clouds teeth and invites gum troubles.

Do you know that "off-color" teeth can be restored to dazzling whiteness with but little effort?

This offers you a test that will cost you nothing. Hence, one it's folly not to make.

In a few days it will work a transformation in the color and luster of your teeth—in your whole appearance.

Modern science has discovered new methods in protecting and beautifying teeth and gums. Foremost dentists employ it. The coupon brings you a 10-day tube free.

It's simply a film: remove it—see what a great difference comes.

Run your tongue across your teeth, and you will feel a viscous film coat covers them. That film is an enemy to your teeth—and your gums. You must remove it.

It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It absorbs discolorations and gives your teeth that cloudy "off-color" look. Germs by the millions breed in it, and they, with tartar, are a chief cause of pyorrhea.

Tooth troubles and gum troubles now are largely traced to that film. Old-time methods fail in successfully combating it. That's why, regardless of the care you take now, your teeth remain dull and unattractive.

New methods remove it. And Firm the Gums. Now, in a new-type dentifrice called Pepsodent, dental science has discovered effective combatants. Their action is to curdle the film and remove it, then to firm the gums.

Now what you see when that film is removed—the whiteness of your teeth—will amaze you.

Ordinary methods fail in these results. Harsh, gritty substances are judged dangerous to enamel.

Thus the world has turned, largely on dental advice, to this new method.

A few days' use will prove its power beyond all doubt.

Mail the coupon. A 10-day tube will be sent you free

BULGARIA ON VERGE OF HOT WORD WAR WITH JUGO-SLAVIA
Vienna, March 23.—Bulgaria and Jugo-Slavia are on the verge of a world diplomatic war symptomatic of the suspicious atmosphere of the Balkans.

Dispatches from Belgrade say that a Bulgarian airplane has been seized in Jugo-Slav territory, and that photographs of Jugo-Slav frontier fortifications were found in it. The pilot and passenger, the Belgrade report asserts, were Bulgarian army officers.

Bulgaria insists that the plane was privately owned, and that its pilot and passenger have no official status. The men probably will be tried by a Jugo-Slav court martial.

3 PLEAD GUILTY, 1 FOUND GUILTY IN OHIO RIOT CASES
Warren, Ohio, March 23.—One man was convicted and three pleaded guilty today in cases growing out of the Klan rioting in Niles last November 1.

Paul Barkhurst was convicted by a jury of carrying concealed weapons. Sentence was deferred pending an appeal.

George Skaggs, Robert McIntyre and Edward Couch pleaded guilty to carrying concealed weapons and were fined $300 and costs each. Judge Thomas suspended $250 of each fine on good behavior.

Fifty-seven others were indicted by a special grand jury, and trials will continue tomorrow.

All but McIntyre are said to have been members of the Klan.

FLAMES TOO HOT FOR DEATH SEEKER, SO HOPS OUT AGAIN
Bluffton, Ind., March 23.—Ovid Schwartz, 27, would have burned himself to death here Monday if the fire hadn't been so hot.

Schwartz, who has been despondent for some time, built a large bonfire on the farm of his father, John Schwartz. He stripped off his clothes and jumped in. But the fire was too hot so he jumped out again.

The young man was taken to a hospital for treatment of his badly burned legs.

Westcliffe, Eng., March 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—There are not ten members of the British parliament who speak or write English properly, in the opinion of Dr. E. G. Graham, member of parliament himself for the London university. In a recent address here Dr. Graham raised his voice against the "woeful neglect" of the study generally of English, which he called the finest language in the world.

British To Continue Building Naval Base at Singapore, Despite MacDonald's Pleas Commons Warned That Ratios Agreed To at Disarmament Conference Will Be Scrapped.

BY CHARLES M. MCANN.

London, March 23.—The house of commons has voted to continue construction of the great naval base at Singapore despite Ramsay MacDonald's warning that to do so would scrap the naval ratios agreed upon at the Washington disarmament conference and provide a breeding spot for war.

MacDonald made a gallant stand against the conservative majority, attacking the Singapore base in vivid terms. But when he had done the commons voted to ignore his warning by 280 to 129.

Colonel Reginald Appin, a conservative member, attacked the United States into the debate when he declared that the construction of the Singapore base was a friendly act toward the United States, which is in severe danger in the Philippines.

Others developed MacDonald's argument regarding the naval ratios by explaining that completion of the Singapore base would cause Britain to maintain a navy as large as the western navy. The conservative arguments for the base centered chiefly upon the need to defend the Indian ocean and the Pacific for the dominions.

Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchitis, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking Creomulsion according to directions. Ask your druggist, Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

A Persistent Cough

Everybody knows how foolish and dangerous it is to let a cough hang on and on. The proper thing to do is to stop it—quick—and for this purpose there is nothing better than that great old home remedy that our parents and grandparents used so successfully. Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. It often relieves a severe cough overnight. Doctors say there is really nothing like pine tar to quickly loosen and remove the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing, while the honey not only gives a pleasant taste but helps soothe the sore throat and irritation.

But be sure you get the genuine Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. It is a scientific compound of just the right proportion of pine tar, honey and other quick-acting ingredients, which the best doctors have found to aid in bringing quick relief. Contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, so can be given even to young children—fine for epidemic croup. If you want the best home remedy in the drug store, get Dr. Bell's. 30c at all good druggists.

situation which finds the labor party in Great Britain trying to defeat plans of the labor party in Australia. Australians are eager for the completion of the Singapore base, and their demand for such a far eastern naval base is largely responsible for Britain's going ahead with the plans. Australia virtually is ruled by labor.

Termed Critical Step.

"Construction of the Singapore base is one of the most critical steps the home government could take," the former socialist premier told the commons. "The general effect of this construction will be to weaken the empire because it will increase the warlike impulses of the world."

"Is Singapore planned to protect Australia's 'white policy'?" MacDonald asked.

Then he recommended that the league of nations be utilized to solve intricate problems of emigration and to remove legal problems from the sphere of military preparation to the sphere of legal decision.

"This Singapore project is provoking a new enemy—Japan. Japan will reply to our action at Singapore by creating a new political policy in the far east," said MacDonald. He asserted that the completion of the Singapore base would necessitate the scrapping of the naval ratios agreed upon at Washington.

At the conclusion of the speech MacDonald moved a technical amendment of $200 in the estimates for Singapore. His labor colleagues backed him loyally, but before the conservative majority the speech became merely a verbal gesture doomed to failure before it was made.

Rickard May Get

Sentence in Jail,

Court Intimates

Trenton, N. J., March 23.—Tex Rickard and the four men convicted with him were given a broad hint Monday that they may not merely be fined but also be sentenced to jail for conspiring to transport the Dempsey-Carpenter fight movies in violation of the interstate commerce law.

The five men were to have been sentenced Monday but the court postponed this action for one week at the request of Rickard's counsel, who said he needed that much time to prepare a brief.

Federal Judge Bodine then asked if the appeal papers had been prepared.

"No," said Walter D. Van Riper, the attorney who was conducting the negotiations. "We will appeal only if there is a jail sentence. We have been waiting to see what the sentence will be."

"You'd better come prepared with your appeal papers," said the court.

"This is rather a bold and flagrant case," the court continued.

"It appears from the evidence that films were carried into 20 states by persons who knew the provisions of the law. In every instance they got into communication with the United States attorneys and told a cock-and-bull story about showing the pictures before disabled soldiers in various hospitals. As soon as a fine was imposed, the rights were sold and Quincy, Inc., received the benefits of the sale, as soon as the court could be induced to swallow the cock-and-bull story."

Frank Flourens, matchmaker of Madison Square Garden, told the Hayes, ex-trainer for Jack Dempsey, Fred Quimby, a movie promoter, and Jap Muma, a former political writer, were the others convicted.

R. G. Peirce Named

Southeastern Agent

Of C. & E. I. in Atlanta

Announcement of creation of the office of general southeastern agent of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railway here, and appointment of R. G. Peirce to that position, was made Monday by E. S. Stephens, general freight agent of the road and E. H. Batchelder, general passenger agent.

Increase in the railroad's business in this section, with prospects for a still larger business, was given as the reason which prompted establishment of the office here.

The following statement was issued Monday in connection with the announcement:

"During the past four years that the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railway has maintained offices in Atlanta, the business of that road has increased to such an extent that the management has come to realize the importance of the southeast as a factor in their present and future business. Looking for still greater increases in business from Georgia, Florida and other southeastern states, and to keep pace with the rapid development and growth of this section of the south, the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railway has created the position of general southeastern agent."

Mr. Peirce, who will take up his new duties immediately, for the past four years has served as southeastern passenger agent, with headquarters in the Healey building.

Others who will be in the Atlanta office are R. C. Wharton, former southeastern freight agent, and L. C. Shirah, former traffic agent, both of whom have been promoted to general agents. R. S. Wood has been named to succeed Mr. Shirah, and will maintain his headquarters in Jacksonville.

'Atlanta's Own' Is Applauded In Big Regimental Parade

With a regimental parade which was witnessed by a sprinkling of Atlantans, and with city officials and members of the "Old Guard" as special guests, the 122nd Infantry, United States, held its annual inspection, Monday night completed its first annual inspection. Regular army inspectors had been engaged for two weeks in the annual inspection and witnessed the parade from special seats in the Auditorium Armory.

The regiment was drawn up in regular formation in the main auditorium, following which three-score members of the "Old Guard," composed of Atlanta's military history, many, many years, marched across the "drill field" from the main entrance and passed to special seats to witness the state's newest national guard outfit in full regimental parade.

The regimental band entertained the guests with a variety of music, being disposed of with a band concert from the stage in the auditorium.

Paris and London

Are Negotiating

European Parley

London, March 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Another European conference, similar to that held in London last summer to put the Daves reparations plan into effect, but one year looking towards European political reconstruction rather than economic rehabilitation, is the subject of negotiations between the British and French foreign offices.

Preliminary plans for such a conference, which would be held in August, were reviewed today as a result of much week-end newspaper speculation, which intimated that new subjects of disagreement had arisen between London and Paris on the subject of European securities.

Realization by both France and England of the necessity for finding a common basis upon which to build a new European security pact to replace the League of Nations, which is responsible for the move toward a general gathering of European states in the British capital. The absence of a strong support in the United States, which was the greatest factor in the London conference of 1924, but it is hoped, will not prevent carrying out the plans now being considered.

In allaying fears of new differences between France and Great Britain, it was authoritatively asserted that the discussions relating to the proposed conference have reached only a very preliminary stage. The attitude of both governments seems to be, however, that some definite program for European security must be ready for presentation to the league of nations assembly in September. Moreover, it is felt that whatever is offered as a solution of the security problem must be satisfactory to all the principal countries, unless Anglo-French prestige in directing European affairs is to suffer a material decline.

BIND WATCHMAN

AND STEAL SILK

WORTH $40,000

New York, March 23.—Armed men held up a watchman on the Lehigh Valley railroad, 26th street pier, on the Hudson river, and escaped with silk valued by railroad officials at $40,000.

Leaping upon the watchman from behind packing cases, the robbers overpowered him before he could draw his gun. He was then trussed up against a wall.

But getting to the silk storehouse the robbers broke down a heavy door. They ripped open a dozen other cases before finding the ones containing the silk. They then carried the cases to a truck waiting at the street entrance of the pier.

After 35 minutes the watchman, an Italian, struggled free and notified the police. He said he heard a motorboat near the pier half an hour before the robbery.

PLANS ARE COMPLETED FOR DINNER OF MAYOR

Final plans for reception and entertainment of the five railroad presidents who will be honor guests at Mayor Walter Sims' dinner at the Biltmore Wednesday night were completed Monday by the reception committee named by the mayor Saturday. All of the railroad magnates have announced definitely that they will attend and are expected to arrive Wednesday morning.

In addition to the railroad officials, representing every road interested in construction of viaducts over the railroad tracks at each end of the union station, almost 200 prominent Atlantans, including city, county and state officials, will be present.

The program of speakers for the dinner has not yet been announced, but it is certain that all of the railroad heads will speak, and that a number of leading Atlantans will deliver addresses. The dinner will start at 7:30 o'clock.

While discussion of the proposed viaducts is the primary cause of the dinner, several other proposed improvements, including cutting through of a new traffic artery in the heart of the downtown business district, probably will be taken up.

Robison Called

Tool for Fall

In Leasing Dome

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—The sincerity of Rear Admiral J. K. Robison, chief of navy engineering, in favoring the navy the leasing of Teapot Dome, was vindicated today by Owen J. Roberts, government counsel, in his argument before Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy, in the Teapot Dome lease annulment case.

"Robison wanted to get oil and storage because of his navy idea," said Mr. Roberts. "But he didn't want to go to congress for it. So he planned the leasing of Teapot Dome and the use of royalty oil accruing to the government as a medium of exchange with which to build great storage tanks and to acquire a large supply of fuel oil as a part of his war plans for the navy."

Referring at another point to Robison's connection with the case, Mr. Roberts said he was "a very pliant person in the hands of Albert B. Fall," then secretary of the interior, who executed the lease to Harry F. Sinclair's Mammoth Oil company.

"Drainage of Teapot Dome," said Mr. Roberts, "was not the reason for the lease. Robison, as chief engineer of the navy, thought that the fighting branch of the government ought to have great oil stores. His egotism in handling the project for the navy made him a very pliant person in the hands of Fall. He didn't care a rap who got the lease or how it was made, so long as he obtained for the navy enough royalty oil to carry out his plan and without going to congress for it."

"Fall had one object, Robison had another, and they were wholly different but this particular scheme of leasing the great reserve met the needs of both."

Mr. Roberts attacked the entire structure of the lease as without the foundation of law. Section after section he cited of the agreement and branded all of

Plans for Texas State Parks Arouse Governors' Interest In Several Southern States

Georgia, Louisiana and Florida Executives Indicate Approval of System Devised in Texas.

Washington, March 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Interest in the acquisition and development of state park systems has increased greatly in the south during the past year, according to observations made in a survey of state parks throughout the country, now under way for the national conference on state parks by its field secretary, Raymond H. Torrey.

This survey was begun in the south because of the desire of John Barren, chairman of the conference, formerly secretary of the interior and now head of the American Red Cross, to encourage several promising movements in the direction of initiating state park systems.

Texas Takes Lead.
The lead in state park acquisition and improvement for public recreation has been taken by Texas which, within a little over a year, has moved to a position up among the leading states in this respect. A total of 51 tracts of land, containing 30,000 acres, has been donated for park purposes, and another gift of 25,000 acres in the Guadalupe mountains is expected within the year.

The progress made in Texas interested governors of other states to whom it was explained by Mr. Torrey in the course of his survey. Governor Brandon, of Alabama, immediately appointed a committee of public-spirited citizens to study a park plan and to report to him so that he may recommend a law at the next session of the legislature. One of the resources in Alabama that might be used for conservation or recreational development is school lands. These are very extensive and might be devoted to such purposes without prejudice to any income they bring the schools.

Governor Walker Interested.
Governor Walker of Georgia was interested in the Texas plan of creating a board to select gifts of lands for state parks, as offering the possibility of a forestry and recreation program for his state. The Georgia Forestry association will introduce in July a bill creating a forestry board empowered to include recreational use of lands it might acquire by gift, transfer or purchase.

In Florida, where the State Federation of Women's Clubs has been chiefly responsible for the acquisition of such state parks as now exist, there is a strong movement for a definite policy of increase in such facilities, either in connection with a forestry commission or as a separate body.

One of the principal objects of their twenty-day stay will be to examine methods employed by Dr. Michael Hoke in treatment of patients at the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children.

ATLANTA WOMAN SEES CHURCH UNIFICATION

Tulsa, Okla., March 23.—Unification of Protestant churches is under way throughout the world, Miss Daisy Davis, of Atlanta, told the women's missionary council of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, here today. She cited conditions in England and Scotland, where she said indicated a growing unity between divided denominations there.

A resolution condemning lynching and mob violence was passed unanimously by the council late today.

The resolution, which is to be presented to the governors of southern states, pledges the aid of the women's council in enforcing the laws against lynching.

North Carolina has lately added to its state parks a fine beach property of 400 acres near Beaufort, which was transferred to the state without cost by the United States war department. Opportunities for the acquisition of a large number of these surplus military reservations, in the Atlantic and Gulf states, which the war department desires to sell, are now open.

PLAINTIFF IS WINNER IN WATERHOUSE CASE

London, March 23.—The jury which has been hearing the case of Mrs. Muriel Waterhouse against Lady Wilson-Barker to recover 12,075 pounds which the plaintiff claimed the defendant had extorted from Alfred Francis Waterhouse, husband of the plaintiff, now deceased, brought in a verdict this afternoon in favor of Mrs. Waterhouse.

It found that R. P. Shotton, named as an alleged party to the extortion, had not conspired with Lady Wilson-Barker. After the final address to the jury by counsel, the court, in summing up, declared itself strongly regarding cases of this nature which, the judge said, convey "a wholly false and misleading impression of what English social and family life is."

"I hope," he added, "that you will dispose of this case at once so that it may be buried and forgotten and not reopened before the official referee."

In the trial of the case it was alleged that Lady Wilson-Barker had gained the affection of Waterhouse's aged mother many years ago and then had become involved in an intrigue with the son, whom she later told their liaison had been discovered and the discoverer had threatened to tell her husband unless given large sums of money. In this regard, it was charged, she had extorted more than 10,000 pounds from her wealthy lover, which Mrs. Waterhouse sued to recover.

On receiving the verdict, the court entered judgment for the entire amount claimed with costs against Sir David Barker, who has been made a co-defendant with his wife on the ground of his legal liability for her acts.

BOARD APPROVES FIVE PROPOSED ZONING CHANGES

Five petitions to amend Atlanta's zoning ordinance Monday were approved by the city planning commission. These requests will go to council for final action at the first meeting in April.

Petitions approved asked that the northeast corner of Cascade avenue and Beecher street be changed from a dwelling house to business district; that the east side of Fort street between Old Wheat and Irwin streets be changed from apartment house to business district; that the north side of Colquitt avenue between Highland avenue and Sinclair street be rezoned from apartment house to business section; that the entire block in Ansley park which is bounded by Golf circle and Montgomery Ferry road be changed from a residence to apartment house district; and that the northeast and southeast corner of McLehenny and Clifton streets be changed from dwelling house to business section.

The last named petition previously had been adversely by the commission, and the adverse report was adopted by council last week. The block in Ansley park for which a change was recommended adjoins the golf links.

GUARD INCREASED FOR BALFOUR TRIP TO SEE JERUSALEM

Cairo, Egypt, March 23.—Eight armored cars and eight Ford automobiles equipped with machine guns have been dispatched to Jerusalem to assist a detachment of troops to Lord Balfour during his stay there.

The Fords will guard the route of the railway over which Balfour's train will pass.

Arabs in Jerusalem are furious with Balfour and the Zionization policy which he represents. That there may be an attempt on his life if the elaborate precautions to safeguard him fail in any way is not unlikely. His lordship is en route to Jerusalem to inaugurate a Jewish university.

The Arabs' point is that they are being crowded out of a land on which they have lived for centuries to make way for Jews who deserted the country. Strikes and similar manifestations have been started.

MOTION IS FILED FOR NEW TRIAL FOR G. C. ORGAIN

Motion for a new trial for G. C. Orgain, who was convicted of the murder of Mrs. Bertha Mae Johnson in Fulton superior court last week, and sentenced to life, was filed Monday by his attorneys, Paul Carpenter and J. O. Ewing. The motion was heard before Judge E. D. Thomas, and April 25 was set as the date for the hearing.

As soon as the record of the trial is completed by the stenographer an amended motion, setting out full grounds for the appeal for the new trial, will be prepared.

PENSION COMMITTEE WILL MEET THURSDAY

Several important ordinances regarding pensions of ex-city employees will be considered at a meeting of the pension committee of city council at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Among papers to be taken up is an ordinance sponsored by Alderman Jesse W. Armistead which would provide for the 1924 pension list being continued this year. Members of the pension committee are said to oppose such a move and to prefer acting on each application for pension separately.

A number of applications for pensions will be acted on, and a large number of pensioners are expected to be present.

CONDITION OF BROWN REMAINS UNCHANGED

The condition of J. Epps Brown, chairman of the board of directors of the Southern Bell Telephone company, continued unchanged at a late hour Monday night.

Mr. Brown suffered a paralytic stroke at his home on Peachtree road Friday night and little hope is held for his recovery. He has been in ill health since his retirement from the presidency of the telephone company in 1924.

British Monarchs Ride Street Car In Italian Tour

Leghorn, Italy, March 23.—Straphangers the world over will welcome the news that King George and Queen Mary of England were passengers Monday aboard a street car.

Their majesties crowded the extremes of locomotion into one day, when they disembarked from a private yacht to observe the scenic wonders of the coastline from the windows of a tram. The king and queen, however, did not sway perilously beneath a strap as they sped from Leghorn to the suburbs of Antignano. Nor were they crowded.

Officials of the local tram company learned that the royal party desired to tour the coastline and immediately put a special car at their majesties' disposal.

With Princess Victoria and other members of their party, the king and queen alighted for a few minutes at Antignano before the return to Leghorn.

The British royal family is not without knowledge of street cars, a member of the suite said. It was explained that the Duke of York, the king's second son, once piloted a trolley for a mile or so on the occasion of the opening of a new route.

CHINESE FACTIONS UNITE IN TRIBUTE TO SUN YAT-SEN

New York, March 23.—Forgetting their factional troubles for the time being, hundreds of almond-eyed residents of New York's Chinatown joined with representatives of every other race and creed at International House here in a great tribute to the memory of Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, who was eulogized as "Father of the Chinese Republic."

Before an altar decorated with candles and bays in the fumes of burning incense, Dr. Sun's works were extolled amid a strange confusion of Oriental and western rites. The salutation and offering of flowers and fruits was conducted by Chang-Fu Yau, a prominent fifth avenue merchant. Judge Paul Lineberger, Dr. Sun's biographer, compared the Chinese legend to Lincoln and Washington.

"He had the broad humanity of a Lincoln and the genius tolerance of a Washington," Lineberger said.

CANADIAN VESSEL SEIZED ON RUM ROW IS TURNED LOOSE

New London, Conn., March 23.—Seized while loading liquor from a supply ship in rum row, the Canadian schooner Fannie Powell, of Yarmouth, N. S., was released before making port here in tow of the destroyer Jettette, it was announced at the destroyer base here today. The Jettette sighted the Powell taking on liquor in rum row and wired to the base here and to Washington for orders. The reply here was to seize the vessel and bring her in. The Jettette started for port with the vessel, laden with 64 cases of liquor, and was met from Washington, received by the Jettette a short while later, said to let the vessel go.

In the suit, which marks a new chapter in much litigation, Mrs. Gwathmey charges abandonment and non-support, claiming that the broker left their home here September 20, 1919. Gwathmey today testified that he has been a resident of Dallas since November 8, 1922.

Isabelle Coomes became Mrs. Gwathmey, Jr., in 1905. After they separated in 1919, Mrs. Gwathmey lost a suit for divorce, naming Mrs. Judd as correspondent. The Texas decree and the Greenwich ceremony followed soon afterwards.

EX-WIFE SUES TO TEST DECREE OF DIVORCE

New York, March 23.—Mrs. Isabelle Coomes Gwathmey, Jr., formerly of New Haven, Conn., brought in supreme court today a separation suit which will test the validity of a divorce decree obtained in Dallas, Texas, by Archibald G. Gwathmey, Jr., cotton broker, and of his marriage to Mrs. Betsy Judd at Greenwich, Conn., last July 4.

In the suit, which marks a new chapter in much litigation, Mrs. Gwathmey charges abandonment and non-support, claiming that the broker left their home here September 20, 1919. Gwathmey today testified that he has been a resident of Dallas since November 8, 1922.

MRS. CHAPMAN FEELS IT HER DUTY TO SPEAK OUT

Well-Known Howell Mill Road Woman Can't Keep Silent About Her Experience With the Remarkable New Medicine, Karnak.

One of the most unusual things in connection with Karnak, the sensational new medicine that Jacobs' Pharmacy is now selling in such tremendous quantities, is the number of well-known and refined men and women who cannot refrain from praising the medicine, although they naturally shrink from publicity.

One of these highly esteemed Atlanta women is Mrs. Mary J. Chapman, of 421 Howell Mill Road, who says that she feels it her duty to tell others of her experience with Karnak, regardless of her personal feelings. Her statement follows:

"This great medicine, Karnak, has been so wonderfully beneficial to me that I think I would be lacking in my duty to other sufferers if I did not let them know about it. About two months ago I began to become all run down and seemed to be losing my strength.

"My appetite failed me and whenever I did eat I suffered with indigestion and heartburn. I was uncomfortable and out of sorts all the time and, while I wasn't sick exactly, I felt tired all the time and would have to lie down and rest to keep going.

"I became so nervous I couldn't sleep and would get up in the morning all fagged out after rolling and tossing all night.

"When I began to hear about Karnak, I felt it would help me and it has done more than that. Words can't begin to describe my relief, but the first bottle of this grand medicine just seemed to take right hold of my troubles and I began to get back my normal strength and energy.

"I am on my second bottle now and am feeling better and better every day. My appetite is splendid and I am always looking forward to mealtime. I sleep like a baby at night and get up in the morning with plenty of energy and just glad I am living.

My digestion is perfect—no more heartburn or stomach disorders of any kind and the nervousness is all gone. I never seem to get tired now and can go all day and still feel fine.

My entire system seems to be strengthened and built up.

"There may be 'medicine in the world as good as Karnak, but I never found it—and I know there could not possibly be anything better."

Over 500,000 bottles of Karnak have been sold in four states in ten months.

Karnak is sold in Atlanta exclusively by Jacobs' Pharmacy; in Marietta by Hodges Drug Co.; in Decatur by Elkin Drug Co.; in East Point by Christian's Pharmacy, and by the leading druggist in every town.

Administration Seeking Way To Break Down Resistance Of France to Arms Parley

If Objection of Paris Is Not Overcome, Conference May Not Be Called by President Coolidge.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, March 23.—The administration is searching for some means of breaking down French resistance to President Coolidge's plan for an armament limitation conference. Unless this resistance can be overcome, the conference will not be held.

The problem of removing this obstacle, which has now become the main key, is the main topic discussed in the few informal conferences between the president and his secretary of state.

All other important powers are known to be sympathetic but France insists that a security pact must precede another armament conference.

The white house spokesman declined to comment on this, but it is known that the American government does not regard the French position as sound. Whether France's attitude is due to a misconception of the Coolidge plan or to some other reason, is unclear here.

Must Have Security Pact. In a word, Paris says that before she can consent to further armament limitation, she must have a security pact—both an offensive and defensive alliance, which will not leave her alone should she be attacked. This point would be well taken, in the opinion here, if the United States had in mind taking up the question of armament at the proposed conference.

But this is not the case, although there is some apparent confusion abroad on this point. The white house has emphasized that, naval armament, not land forces, would be the object of discussion.

Reduction of standing armies is regarded as Europe's problem. The United States has cut her force to the lowest point possible for some years to come. It would, therefore, have nothing to offer in negotiations with European countries over reduction of land armament.

Against Limiting Submarines. Another objection, which probably lies nearer the heart of the French position, is the reluctance of the country to submit to any limitation of submarine or other auxiliary forces. That was demonstrated at the first Washington conference. Premier Briand fought every suggestion in this direction and the subject had to be dropped in order to accomplish anything with regard to capital ships.

France feels that the submarine is necessary to her protection, not so much against Germany, as against other potential foes. This feeling is in the background at the time that the United States is dealing more directly with security pacts to be considered by this government in breaking down resistance to the president's conference plan.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

Next morning your cold has vanished and your system feels refreshed and purified. MAN WHO WED LOCAL GIRL ESCAPES TRIAL

According to the order of the Chicago commissioner McDermott will be placed under observation in a psychiatric ward in a hospital in that city to test his sanity. The judge declared he would not sign a removal order until after the sanity test has been made.

Arrives in Atlanta. Miss Lawrence arrived in Atlanta Monday. She said McDermott would not speak to her during her stay in Chicago. "There was no doubt as to his identity," she stated.

Miss Lawrence said she met McDermott at Rochester, Minn., last December and they were married at the home of her grandmother in Chattanooga. After the marriage they came to Atlanta, where they lived several days at a fashionable hotel here. McDermott then suddenly deserted his new bride, leaving a note which he explained he was married prior to his marriage to Miss Lawrence. The grand jury investigated the case and returned an indictment against McDermott charging violation of the Mann act.

Miss Lawrence was a beneficiary under the will of Robert E. Deane, which is now being contested by Frank Deane, who claims to be his son.

HOSTILE AIR FLEET COULD SEIZE COAST

that area you have three-quarters of our factories, including importantly almost all our steel works; most of our national wealth; most of our coal; most of our financial power. With that region cut off from the rest of the country, the enemy would be in a position to take over the country.

The first objective probably would be the rail centers. Let us say that the enemy is based somewhere near the southeastern corner of the triangle. At present, a first-class bombing plane can go 750 miles, load up, before it exhausts its fuel. It can therefore operate—roughly speaking—350 miles from its base. "The range of bombers is gradually increasing. Even if we discover nothing new in aviation, by refining the principles we already know, we may extend it some 30 per cent. And as that attack could not possibly happen for some years, let us allow the attacking airplanes a radius of 400 to 450 miles. That puts the enemy in a position to reach every important railroad center in the east—Buffalo, Syracuse and Albany, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, Washington, St. Louis, New York, and of course New York. At the rate of two towns or more a day, he could cut our railway arteries. This is a simple, military reality. Let us be more specific.

Power of Poison Gas. Whatever half-informed apologists for modern warfare may say to the contrary, it is possible in practice to use for the purpose of attacking all life in almost any modern city by poison gases launched from the air. Paris, Brussels and Berlin are all possible targets. The event of another war. Our enemy, however, would not be out to slaughter civilians as a primary objective, but just to destroy our communications.

First, he would blow up the railroad stations, the knots of trucks in the railway yards, the round houses, the car barns, the engine houses, the limited streets, the small bombs, and the inaccurate bombing of the late war, railroad centers were often put out of commission for days by air attack. Of course, the bombs so destroyed can be repaired. To prevent this, the enemy would try to render the city untenable.

Here, he might proceed in several different ways, according to circumstances. Some cities depend for their water supply upon open reservoirs. A few mustard gas bombs dropped into these containers would render the water rank, torturing poison; and without water man cannot live. That alone would insure civilian evacuation.

Possibility of Fire. He might avail himself of a city's worst enemy—fire. In the late war, the Germans several times set fires in London from the air. These conflagrations were put out before they did much damage by a fire department keyed up to war. But almost any fire in any city may turn into a conflagration if the fire department or its apparatus are out of business—as witness the San Francisco disaster.

These are several ways of dealing with the fire department. In some cities, a few bombs on exposed dams or water tanks would render the water rank, torturing poison; and without water man cannot live. That alone would insure civilian evacuation.

Further, certain poison gases do not extinguish fire. Only a marked and protected fire department trained in gas tactics could fight a conflagration surrounded by a fringe of such gas. A second wave of fighting planes, attacking the firemen from the air by bomb or machine-gun, might well pay for its trouble.

Super-Poison Gas. Finally, there is poison gas. According to the most credible authorities I can find, it would take from 6 to 15 tons of the phosgene type to eliminate all life not specially "zapped" in a city square mile. Estimates vary; but one knows exactly, because it has never been tried, that Waycross, Ga., March 23.—(Special.)—A result of the highway conference held here by officers and directors of the Centy Dixie Highway association, and representative from the different towns along the route, is the issuance of a series of bulletins giving accurate information regarding the condition of the roads.

President W. R. Bowen, of Fitzgerald, will have charge of the collection and publication of these bulletins, the cost of publication and distribution being prorated among the towns along the route. Each city to send in weekly to the office of the president of the association information regarding the condition of the roads between the nearest towns north and south. This information is to be compiled and copies printed and distributed to towns throughout Georgia and Florida.

President Bowen has named the following road reporters: Waycross, G. R. King; Fitzgerald, Smith; Douglas, W. H. Bone; Nichols, Ray Meeks; Folkstone, T. W. Wrench; Ocala, Owen J. Clark.

Reporters from other towns along the route will be named later.

History of Crime. The crime for which Chapman is about to go to trial occurred last October 12, before dawn, when a party of New Britain policemen came upon a pair of men engaged in "blowing" a pair ran, but store safe. One of the pair ran, but his partner, busily pouring the nitroglycerine which was to be used in the explosion, was captured by the policemen. Skelly and Alfred E. Atwater. The trapped men opened fire. It was answered by Skelly, who dropped fatally wounded, and the man shot his way to the street. He met a few before-dawn risers who had been attracted by the shots.

"There's been some shooting in the street," he calmly assured them and walked off.

A few minutes later the police captured Walter E. Shean, son of a wealthy Springfield (Mass.) hotel man. Shean, a white-haired man, one of the men in the store—the one who had run before the shooting began. His companion, the patrolman's murderer, he said, was Chapman. Atwater later testified Chapman as Skelly's murderer.

Two Objects of Enemy. In this, the attacking air forces would have two objects; first to disorganize the life of the city; second, to precipitate a panic which would cause immediate evacuation. To help this second effect, a plane or so could probably empty its load in the residential district. And there the city stands for weeks not only useless to the enemy, but a source of embarrassment. In spite of the wind, these deadly vapors would hang for weeks in the city canyons and crevices. The enemy would probably use for part of this work three types of gases like our own famous Lewisite, whose poisonous dew, lingering on exposed surfaces, would bite and kill like rat poison.

Two Objects of Enemy. In this, the attacking air forces would have two objects; first to disorganize the life of the city; second, to precipitate a panic which would cause immediate evacuation. To help this second effect, a plane or so could probably empty its load in the residential district. And there the city stands for weeks not only useless to the enemy, but a source of embarrassment. In spite of the wind, these deadly vapors would hang for weeks in the city canyons and crevices. The enemy would probably use for part of this work three types of gases like our own famous Lewisite, whose poisonous dew, lingering on exposed surfaces, would bite and kill like rat poison.

Thrill-Seekers Storm Court To Hear Evidence Presented Against William D. Shepherd

Dr. Faiman Tells of Interest Manifested by Defendant in Learning About Typhoid Bacilli.

Chicago, March 23.—Efforts to discredit the testimony upon which William D. Shepherd was indicted for the murder of "Billy" McClintock will be resumed Tuesday morning with the defense lawyers hammering at the state's witnesses. If the testimony can be discredited, Shepherd's lawyers hope to obtain his release on bail.

The second day of the unique procedure came to an end Monday after a hectic session, during which a mob of 200 thrill seekers fought and scrambled for admission to the courtroom. There was a reenactment of the scenes of which daily marked the trial of Richard Loh and Nathan Leopold, Jr. for the murder of Robert Franks.

Faiman Examination Finished.
Attorney William S. Stewart completed his examination of Dr. Charles C. Faiman, whose story furnishes the foundation for the indictment against Shepherd. He struck to the heart of the matter when he stepped from the witness stand, the gruesome tale was still intact. He knew nothing, he said, of a plot to break the will of "Billy" McClintock by which William D. Shepherd is made the heir. His story was that Shepherd and himself plotted to kill the youth by feeding him typhoid germs. His story was that Shepherd and himself plotted to kill the youth by feeding him typhoid germs.

Discussed Typhoid Treatment.
"There were a number of times we discussed the relative value of the treatments in typhoid," Faiman said. "We talked of them at our first meeting in the Atlantic hotel—also at the second meeting at the Hotel Sherman, where Shepherd asked me how to administer typhoid bacilli. I told him they were not discernible in water."

"Shepherd asked me the names of standard text books on typhoid bacilli and I told him Todd's Physical Diagnosis," he said. He said he'd get one. I gave him two of our printed lessons on bacteriology."

Life in the county jail is affecting Shepherd visibly. While he still maintains to some extent the care-free attitude he displayed when first mentioned in the McClintock investigation, he has begun to lose weight. He takes a keen interest in the proceedings before him as he sits between his two attorneys.

Will Continue Probe.
Chief Justice Harry Olson, who kept the investigation alive at a time when the authorities were promising Shepherd a complete vindication, announced Monday that he would go on with his examination of witnesses at the coroner's inquest into McClintock's death.

He also announced that he would make inquiries into the illness of Miss Isabelle Pope, the society girl, who was to have become McClintock's bride. Miss Pope is now in California, where she went in an effort to restore her health following the death of her sweetheart. Her attorney has received word that her condition is becoming serious.

Two Plans Proposed TO RENUMBER HOUSES
Two plans proposed for renumbering all houses in Atlanta will be studied by the city board of consulting engineers at a meeting set for 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, it was announced Monday by R. W. Torras, engineer and secretary of the city planning commission. Members of the commission also will attend.

Both plans—one of which is a revision of the present continuous numbering system, which, it is claimed, would eliminate practically all objectionable features of the system now in effect, and the other the century, or block system—have been given consideration by a special committee of the planning commission during the past two weeks.

According to present plans, the system most suitable here will be decided by the planning commission following Friday's meeting, and its adoption recommended to council next month.

Wales Spending Busy Week On Eve of Six Months' Tour

GREAT CROWDS GREET HIM ON APPEARANCES
London, March 23.—This will be a busy week for the Prince of Wales, who is leaving Saturday on his tour of South Africa and South America, to be gone from England at least six months. He is adding speed to his social whirl and is bidding as many friends as possible farewell. There is only one public engagement on his schedule this week—that as guest of honor at the South African Luncheon club tomorrow. On Friday he will make a semi-official visit to Wembley exhibition, which will be reopened to the public in May.

Much of the prince's time is being spent in clearing up his business affairs and in making final arrangements for the journey, but he hopes to participate in one short hunt with his favorite fox hounds before he goes. He has given up any idea of taking in any of this week's internationally-known racing events, which the heir to the throne, together with the rest of England's royalty, usually attends.

Although the prince's daylight hours are fully occupied, he has not yet given up his evening pastimes of the theater and dance. Nearly every evening he drops into at least one West End dance club with a party of friends for an hour of fox-trotting. As the day for his departure approaches, the prince's public appearances are hailed with more than usual enthusiasm. Saturday night he attended a light opera in a theater in the Strand, and the crowds that assembled to watch Wales and the other celebrities of his party held up traffic for some minutes. Men, women and children rushed toward the prince as he came out of the theater, attempted to grasp his hand, clung to his arms and nearly dragged his overcoat from him. He received these friendly aggressive attentions from his subjects good-naturedly, smiling and bowing.

The battle cruiser Repulse, which is to take the prince on his southern tour, has been outfitted with the latest wireless equipment, a receiving set having been installed in the prince's suite so that he will be able to listen in while at sea. The speech he is to deliver upon his arrival at Capetown, and his later speeches at Johannesburg, Pretoria and Durban, will be

L. V. Baldwin, Esq., Pacific, President Missouri Pacific, Railway Exchange Bldg., St. Louis, Missouri.

My dear Mr. Baldwin:

I want to thank the Missouri Pacific for one of the most pleasant journeys I ever experienced, on the "Sunshine Special" from Houston to St. Louis.

You have instilled a human touch on this train that makes traveling a delight instead of an ordeal. I found the desire to serve amazingly incultured from George, the porter, to J. Y. Webb, the conductor.

It is indeed a far cry from the "Public Be Damned" policy of another generation to the "Public Be Pleased" policy of the "Sunshine Special."

It has always seemed to me the province of a railroad to make their passengers feel the train is their temporary home enroute. You have accomplished this.

Cordially,
O. O. McIntyre.

Legislation on Railroads Will Be One of Big Issues At Next Congress Session

Three Major Phases of Transportation Problem Are Expected To Receive Close Attention.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.
Washington, March 23.—Railroad legislation, shoved aside by the last congress, is expected to be one of the principal issues in the next congress. As a result of several recent developments which have turned attention to transportation problems.

congress expect to devote considerable time in the next few months, while congress is away, to a study of transportation needs, and the several remedies which are being suggested. Out of this study is expected to come a concrete administration program which President Coolidge probably will place before congress in his opening message.

No Unanimity of Opinion.
There is no unanimity of opinion in congress on the railroad question. Any program undertaken by the administration will meet with opposition. Because of the diversity of views, railroads probably will have a long session in congress, once the subject gets out of the committee stage, where it has been confined for many months, and reaches the floor.

Three major phases of the transportation problem are expected to receive attention—consolidation of all the roads in the country into a few groups, revision of the transportation act, and some change in the railroad labor board.

Plans for Consolidation.
The interstate commerce commission has been working since 1920 on a consolidation plan. All investigations and hearings have been completed, and the commission is now at work drawing up a final plan. Its completion will be only the first stage. The problem then will be to get the railroads to accept it. Senator Cummins, of Iowa, former chairman of the interstate commerce committee and an expert on railroads, has introduced a bill which is designed to "perpetrate" the roads to merge as recommended by the commission. It provides that those roads which do not consolidate voluntarily, in five years, will be treated individually in the matter of rates and other considerations in the same way as the merged roads. This would put them at a disadvantage, and Cummins believes they would be forced to fall in line.

Opposed by Certain Groups.
The whole theory of railroad consolidation, however, is opposed by certain groups in congress, who hold that it will set up a giant monopoly. Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, holds this view. Others are still in doubt about the wisdom of consolidation. Senator Howell, of Nebraska, is in this class. He has introduced a resolution for investigation of the proposed Nickel Plate merger, in which he hoped to bring the whole question of consolidation. The resolution died in committee.

Cummins, on the other hand, points to the receiverships of the Boston & Maine and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul as indicating that legislation for weaker roads is necessary, and holds that consolidation will aid them. The administration is equally behind consolidation. Secretary of Commerce Hoover has been one of its leading sponsors.

Revision of Act Favored.
As for the transportation act of 1920, Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, and his group demand repeal of the rate-making clause. Others want further revisions.

La Follette also demands abolition of the railroad labor board. Even President Coolidge has advocated changes in the board, but has recommended no specific alterations. The Howell-Barley bill, abolishing the board, was blocked in the house during the last congress by administration forces, but will be brought up again.

COOLIDGE BIDS WORLD TO 1926 EXPOSITION

Washington, March 23.—President Coolidge issued a proclamation today inviting the 48 states of the union and all foreign governments to participate in the international exposition to be held in Philadelphia, June 1 to November 30, 1926.

The proclamation was issued under authority of a joint resolution of congress. The exposition has been arranged as a celebration of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, and will show the progress of arts, science, industry, trade and commerce as well as development of products of the air, soil, forest and seas.

Winder, Ga., March 23.—(Special.) Morgan Blake and the flying squadron of the Agoga class of the Tabernacle Baptist church of Atlanta, paid Winder a visit Sunday afternoon and night. They came upon a special invitation of the Agoga class of the Winder Baptist church, sponsored by Mrs. W. M. Holsenbeck, director of the class, and Horace H. Harwell, teacher.

DOCTOR SEES NO HOPE FOR MORSE'S RECOVERY

New York, March 23.—Dr. Henry James, attending physician, said that Charles W. Morse, financier and former shipping man, probably could not recover from an attack of paralysis from which he has been in a comatose condition in his apartment for a week. The entire right side of his body is paralyzed, Dr. James said, and his head was cut and bruised when he collapsed in a taxi cab on March 13.

Morse, who is 69 years old, was indicted with his three sons and others in 1922 for alleged use of the mails to defraud investors in stocks of various steamship companies.

$10,000 IS DAMAGE OF FIRE AT HARLEM

Harlem, Ga., March 23.—(Special.) Harlem was visited again Sunday by a disastrous fire that razed the store of State Senator E. D. Clary, the barber shop of L. E. Ubanks and a lunch stand.

It is thought that the fire started in the barber shop.

The loss is estimated at $10,000, with no insurance.

CIGARETTE MAKERS TO GET TAX REFUND

Washington, March 23.—Tobacco manufacturers who paid the additional "floor tax" of 95 cents per thousand cigarettes upon cigarettes by the revenue act of 1918, are entitled to a refund on that tax on cigarettes that were exported. The supreme court so held today in a case brought by the government against P. Lorillard company.

GIANTS WIN FROM PHILLIES

Brantown, Fla., March 23.—Two big innings were all the Giants needed Monday when they beat the Phillies by a score of 8 to 2. They batted three runs in the second inning and five in the sixth.

Wayland Dean, who started for the Giants, hurled five innings, being the first Giant pitcher to go as much as five rounds in an exhibition game this spring. Jimmy Wilson saved the Phils from a shut-out in the seventh inning by making 21 home runs with Heinie Sand on base, at which time Kent Greenfield was pitching for the Giants.

The score:
New York . . . 050 005 000—8 11 1
Philadelphia . . . 000 000 200—2 4 0

New York, March 23.—Earle Sande, famed in racing as the rider of Cav, American conqueror of the British horse Papyrus, in international competition in the United States two years ago, today was astride a saddle for the first time since he suffered a broken leg in a spill early last August at Saratoga Springs. SMOOT PLANS REPEAL OF NUISANCE TAXES

Washington, March 23.—Reduction of the maximum surtax rate to 25 per cent and repeal of such nuisance taxes as remain on the statutes will be pressed in a $500,000,000 tax reduction bill next session. Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee, said today before leaving for his home in Utah.

Senator Smoot, who called today on the president, also declared he would urge repeal of the inheritance tax next session on the ground that such taxes should be left for use of states in raising revenues. He believed also, however, states should leave to the national government entirely the use of the income tax.

FRANKENHEIMER DEATH DUE TO BRAIN TUMOR

New York, March 23.—An autopsy today showed that the death of Louis S. Frankenhimer, 74-year-old retired banker, in his apartment last night was due to a tumor on the brain and not to injuries which he had received at the hands of three robbers when attacked on the streets.

A vague story told by the aged banker before he died caused the police to start a search for the supposed robbers.

Chief Medical Examiner Norris, who performed the autopsy, said he believed Frankenhimer collapsed while out walking and, with his mind dazed, imagined he was attacked.

SENATOR PINE SEEKING EASTERN COTTON MILLS

Washington, March 23.—Senator Pine, republican, of Oklahoma, is in Boston today conferring with eastern capitalists in an effort to induce them to locate cotton mills in his state. For some time the Oklahoma senator has been in correspondence with mill interests of New England, in which he asserted Oklahoma was the second largest cotton-producing state and there was ample raw material to supply many additional mills.

HANCOCK LUMBERMEN PLAN BIG SHIPMENTS

Sparta, Ga., March 23.—(Special.) The lumber interests in Hancock county are planning to make a concerted drive this spring to ship more lumber to the market than has moved from here in the past two years. One tract is expected to cut over ten million feet of pine and hardwood timber and several years will be consumed in the cutting.

Ithaca, N. Y., March 23.—The trial of the civil actions instituted by Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin, of Chicago, against her former husband, Captain Robert E. Treman, and his parents of this city, was postponed until September when the cases were called today.

Mrs. McLaughlin alleged that Captain Treman converted $50,000 worth of her securities to his own use, while Captain Treman maintains the securities were used with her permission to exploit her in the moving pictures.

FRED HEIMACH STILL IN GAME

Philadelphia, March 23.—The injured shoulder, suffered last week by Fred Heimach, star southpaw of the Philadelphia Americans, may not keep him from the mound this year after all. Heimach said here today after an examination of the shoulder by a physician of Philadelphia that he expected to be pitching again in a month.

FITTERY IS SLATED TO FACE ORIOLE CLUB TODAY

Jenkins Gets Two Doubles As Yannigans Are Beaten; Pipgras Wild on Mound

BY GEORGE CONGDON, Constitution Sporting Editor.
Winter Park, Fla., March 23.—(Special.)—When the Atlanta Crackers hop over to Eustis tomorrow to do what damage they can to Jack Dunn's Baltimore Orioles, Bert Niehoff probably will send against the International League birds the fellow who tore them up in three games of the "little world" last year. That boy is Paul Fittery, the slinger purchased for much money from St. Paul during the winter.

The game tomorrow sends the Atlanta outfit into its final hard work of the training season at Winter Park. Niehoff is looking the boys over well this week, and he has all but one to watch, Nelson Leach, son of the famous Tommy, who left Saturday, released. Niehoff probably will work a part of the game at second, using little Mike Gazzella the rest of the time at the keystone position.

Van Michalove, the meat ticket of the whole crowd here for Atlanta, watched practice today. He had nothing much to say of the boys. He's keeping his hands off the game, letting Niehoff do all the watching and pointing out the material rounded up during the winter.

Pipgras Is Wild.
It was the old regular Yannigan business this afternoon when the club was warmed up. It was a slugfest from beginning to end, with the regular winning, 10 to 4. In the fourth inning the regulars cut loose with all 10 runs, largely because of the generosity of George Pipgras, the big right-hander obtained from the Yankees. Pipgras was off his head, decidedly. He walked so many men the Crackers could go into a race with Willie Plant or Ugo Frigiero and win.

Red Smith, leading the old guard, had Olsen and Newberry on the mound. Olsen, starting and in his first practice game this season with the Crackers, let the Yannigans have three hits in as many innings. They were scattered, one in each. Newberry went in in the fourth and allowed one

Reeves Joins Jacket Mates On Diamond

Bob Reeves, veteran shortstop of the Tech baseball team, joined his jacket mates yesterday afternoon after being on the bench for more than two weeks with an injured ankle. Reeves was hurt in football last fall and had an operation on his foot early in January. He was getting along fine but was hurt again in baseball practice. With Reeves back in the line-up at short, Moreland will be shifted back to third base and Morgan will be used in the outfield.

New York city fans, before whom Paavo has made many of his records in this phenomenal indoor season, will see him for the last time tomorrow night when he runs in the mile and a half event at the 107th Coast Artillery games in the Ninth Coast Artillery armory.

All-Star Basket Teams Clash for Title Tonight

Coach Roy Mundorf and his all-star basketball team of the Sunday School Athletic association, and Coach Howard Holt's all-star aggregation of the Epworth union, will close Atlanta's 1925 basketball season tonight on the city auditorium court, with the scheduled time at 8:30.

The activities, however, will begin around 7:00 o'clock, with the Georgia Railway and Power company quarter, and Wop Woman and his band of Rambling Wrecks from Georgia Tech being on hand, to dish out some musical entertainment. They will be on hand during the preliminary game and the main affair to amuse the fans while no game is in progress.

Beginning sharply at 7:30 o'clock a preliminary game is booked to hold the spotlight, it being between a Decatur girls' all-star team and the girls' all-star team of the Epworth union. The Decatur team is coached by G. W. Perry.

Mayor Walter A. Sims will toss up the first ball that will start the two teams in the main struggle. The main affair will get under way at 8:30 o'clock promptly, and when the smoke of the battle has cleared away the teams will know that they have been into a real battle.

Ten prizes are to be awarded to the best players of the winning team. With these features on the slate, and I. C. Matheny, athletic director of the Y. M. C. A., picked as head referee, officials are anticipating a record-breaking crowd for an amateur struggle.

The teams will be picked some time during the day. Both Holt and Mundorf sent their charges through their final workout last night. Mundorf is known as a player who will start, it is almost sure that Anchor school and T. N. T. will have at least one representative on the team. The Epworth team is from City College Park, and St. John's are assured of a place on the Epworth team.

PETULANT RHINO CONSIDERED DAZZY'S FAST ONE WORSE THAN BULLET LESS DANGEROUS THAN DAZZY
New York, March 23.—Adam Drazzy has caught the pitching of Drazzy Vance in Hastings, Neb., and shot the petulant rhino in Nairobi, Africa. They are perilous pleasures, both. As between them, Adam Drazzy would rather shoot the petulant rhino with a low-caliber peashooter than catch the pitching of Dazzy Vance with a mitt as big as a wrestling mat.

"When you're working out on a petulant rhino," Mr. Drazzy said, "and I might remark that the rhino can be extremely petulant at times, you have always got a chance to do something to him to get what he's trying to do to you. But when you're catching Dazzy Vance you can only snap there and take it."

"Just after Dazzy left high school in Hastings, we got him on our town ball club. I was playing first base. He made a few throws at me to catch runners off the bag, and after that I figured that he'd throw wild, even if everybody scored. Losing a ball game isn't so hard after all, compared to having your hand shot off."

"I thought I would rather catch Dazzy Vance than play first base to him, because the catcher had a bigger mitt. So I went in to catch, and after the first few bombs had gone off in my mitt I started praying again. I prayed that the batter would hit the dirt thing so I wouldn't have to stop it. Whenever he pitched over the backstop, which was about twice an inning for Dazzy was just the least bit wilder than the wild Irish rose, I felt like a man who had just got a reprieve from the governor."

"Unfortunately, the hitters didn't help much. They were all so scared of Dazzy's speed that they'd stand there with one foot in the next county and swing blind just to get it over with and get out of harm's way."

"I am now going to Nairobi, Africa," Mr. Drazzy said, "to shoot the petulant rhino. After catching Dazzy Vance in a few games of ball, I'm convinced that no violent end will ever befall me. I'm going to die in bed."

Jap Wins Feature Match In Sally Tennis Tourney
Augusta, Ga., March 23.—T. Harada, member of the Japanese Davis cup team, this afternoon defeated A. H. Chapin, Jr. of Springfield, 6 to 3, in an exhibition match which featured today's play in the south Atlantic states tennis tournament.

Other scores of the afternoon matches were as follows:
Harada and Chapin won in an exhibition doubles from George Lott, Canadian schoolboy marvel, and Rossenbaum, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4. Lott defeated Chapin in the singles, 6-2, 6-2 and C. O. Bradley, 6-0, 6-0.

J. B. Stinson defeated J. B. Lee, 6-1, 6-4. N. Johnson defeated H. Gurney, 6-3, 6-4.

The preliminary and first-round matches were for the most part, slow and unexciting. The high calibre players had things their way with practically no stout opposition.

The preliminary match between Ward and Murphy was the only one in which I saw the victors in all three sets, the victors in all three winning in two. The Gurney-Martin encounter, while running only two sets, was close enough to be interesting, as was also the Hardy-Culley affair.

The morning's preliminary play resulted as follows: Stadel vs. Chaney, 6-1, 6-3; Ward vs. Murphy, 6-3, 2-6, 6-1; Yoshida vs. Deas, 6-0, 6-1; off vs. Harper, 6-0, 6-0; Gurney vs. Martin, 6-4, 6-3; Bradley won by default.

First round results were: Hardy vs. Culley, 6-3, 6-4.
Harada vs. Brown, 6-0, 6-0. Rutledge vs. Clark, 6-1, 6-3.
Neal Chapin won by default.

GENTLES JOINS HOLE-IN-ONE CLASS

Memphis, Tenn., March 23.—T. T. Gentles, in a two-episode with "Bill" Mallory, former captain of the Yale eleven and 1923 all-American fullback, joined the golfer's hall of fame today, when he dropped a hole in one on the ninth hole, 125 yards, at the Chickasaw Golf club.

Judge Defers Sentence of Tex Rickard Week

Trenton, N. J., March 23.—At the request of defense counsel, Federal Judge Bodine today deferred for one week imposition of sentence on Tex Rickard and others convicted last week of conspiracy in interstate transportation of films of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight.

Walter D. Van Riper, counsel for Rickard; Frank B. Flournoy, and Theodore Hayes, moved that sentence be deferred until he had sufficient time to examine the records and prepare a brief.

In granting an adjournment until next Monday, Judge Bodine said "you had better come prepared with your appeal papers."

Besides Rickard, Flournoy and Hayes, other defendants are Jasper (Dap) Munna and Fred C. Quimby, president of Quimby, Inc., which exploited the films. In addition the Quimby corporation also was found guilty by the jury.

James J. Daugherty, Philadelphia fight manager, was the only one of the defendants acquitted by the jury after a six-day trial.

CONSTITUTION BEGINS PRACTICE

The Constitution baseball candidates held their initial practice of the year yesterday afternoon at Grant Park with more than 20 candidates out. Practice will be held daily and the candidates will return Wednesday to Almond Park, the home diamond of the Constitution.

J. L. Bane has been elected manager and L. D. Atkinson was chosen as field captain.

The Constitution was a member of the Press league last season and expects to play through a successful schedule.

Efforts are being made to reorganize the Press league again this year and a meeting of all of the last year members will be held some time during the week.

Richardson Gets Single, Two Doubles and Triple As Ohio State Succumbs

BY MARCUS BRYANT.
Athens, Ga., March 23.—(Special.) With Andy Chambers twirling in mid-season form, the Georgia Bulldogs won their opening game of the present season here Monday afternoon, shutting out the Ohio State Buckeyes, 7 to 0.

While Chambers was holding the visitors to three scattered hits, his mates slammed out a total of 12 safeties, and fielded perfectly during the afternoon. Eight of the Ohio States batters whiffed the breezes, and two were walked. Miller, who started on the mound for Ohio States, was relieved at the beginning of the sixth inning. Nine safeties were surrendered by him and Debris, let the Bulldogs off with three knocks in his three hurling innings.

Georgia started off with a tally in the first inning. With two down, Nolan Richardson doubled and Captain J. D. Thomason sent him across the plate with a neat triple. Another Brascher, c. 2 0 0 2 0 0 Miller, p. 2 0 1 0 2 0 Dobbie, p. 1 0 0 0 0 0

TIGERS TACKLE SOLDIERS AGAIN

Auburn, Ala., March 23.—(Special.) The Auburn Tiger baseballers will tackle the Port Bonning diamond clan Tuesday afternoon on the Auburn field. The Bonning game will mark the first campus tilt of the season and the second series—the first being played with the infantrymen last week-end.

The two-game go with the soldier outfit resulted in two decisive defeats for the Tigers. A good practice game was gone through with Monday and every effort will be made to retaliate for the two losses last week.

The Plaismen are badly in need of experience behind the bat. McDonald, Maury and Johnson, who have been used on the receiving end, are all new at the catcher's job and as a result makes a strategic position go wanting for a veteran performer to bolster up the Auburn play.

A Statement From the President

—March 24, 1925, marks the completion of the first annual cycle since the opening of our new store at Broad and Alabama streets.

—It is proper that, on this day, we voice our appreciation for the response and cooperation accorded us by our customers and our co-workers.

—Immensely increased facilities have enabled us to properly care for any ever-increasing volume in trade, mounting to a figure never before accomplished by any mercantile retail establishment of the southeast.

—This great volume of sales, and the staunch friendship of our customers, have enabled us to broaden and improve our policies, which will ever be founded upon these following basic principles:

—QUALITY AND RELIABILITY OF MERCHANDISE.

—EFFICIENT AND COURTEOUS SERVICE.

—ABSOLUTE SATISFACTION TO EVERY CUSTOMER IN EVERY TRANSACTION.

—LOWEST PRICES ALWAYS

—QUALITY FOR QUALITY CONSIDERED.

—It is to these principles we pledge the efforts of our organization to the fullest measure.

—As worthy acknowledgment of the public's great interest and confidence in Rich's, I have personally requested all department executives to present, today, "Rich's Better Values" of an extraordinary character, as expressions of our most sincere and deeply-felt appreciation.

MRS. RENO'S OBSERVATIONS

Accepting Armand's Creed of Beauty As Their Own, Weinbergers Affirm, "We Believe in Beauty; We Believe in the Power of Beauty to Give Happiness, and We Believe That to Help Create, Develop and Perpetuate Beauty Is the Finest Work We Can Do in the World."

The very interesting and important announcement that it is my pleasure and privilege to make today, to Atlanta and her lovely and luxuriant women, is that WEINBERGERS, IMPORTERS AND SHOP INDIVIDUAL, will be formally opened on Wednesday, March 25, on Peachtree-Beside-the-Georgian-Terrace.

WEINBERGERS believe that declaring their special creed of BEAUTY is their irrevocable pledge to les elegantes of this city, that it is to their charm, their loveliness and adorable chic that all their own devoirs will be offered. Nor will that promise be nil, for WEINBERGERS have been creating beauty for fourteen years and, with the unsurpassed inspiration that the lovely ladies of Atlanta offer, it is safe to assert that WEINBERGERS will achieve even still more remarkable success.

For the friends of this progressive firm know that MRS. WEINBERGER works truly modern miracles—since hers is the genius that can render a hopelessly plain woman ultra smart or transform a merely pretty one into a fashionable beauty, or, what is more remarkable still, can bestow upon a superlatively lovely woman the distinction, the intriguing lure and traditional grace of a grande dame of the old, brilliant aristocracies.

WEINBERGERS have the honor and great pleasure of inviting the ladies of Atlanta to the formal OPENING of their beautiful SHOP INDIVIDUAL on Peachtree-Beside-the-Georgian-Terrace, Wednesday, March 25. And, true to their creed of Beauty, they have rendered their interior, where BEAUTY is to be exploited, a veritable shrine of Beauty, in its harmonized contrasts of carved Circassian walnut with the soft blues of Chinese rugs and draperies.

It will be discovered by the social leaders of Atlanta to be a Shop of Smart Fashion, reflecting the atmosphere of Paris, alluringly enough to charm, and of New York, brilliantly enough to delight, and of Atlanta, beautiful enough to compliment. For while Paris and New York have ERTE, BARON DE MEYER and HERMAN PATRICK TAPPE, it yet remains Atlanta's good fortune to claim WEINBERGERS as their own.

This interesting establishment believes that while BEAUTY is more than CLOTHES-DEEP, that the woman who gives the adorable effect of youth in gently flowing lines, in grace and ease of movement, causes Beauty's real sensation. Still, BEAUTY can be graciously assisted to perfect expression of itself by the inimitable and uncopiable WEINBERGER QUALITY—a combination of genius, fabric, fashion, fit and fineness which in the ultimate analysis means INDIVIDUALITY.

WEINBERGERS are to Vogue what orchids are to flowers and assuredly more than ever, now, they are ambassadors from the Court of Madame la Mode, presenting highly specialized and subtly appealing elegance with all the novel motifs, the charming caprices of the moment and in all the delicate or magnificent colors of spring. These of a verity, include the famous "high colors" that Paris sponsors. The new GRAY—that soft tone of springtime mists and quick showers—like the gray of no other season, since it glows with the rose-tones of budding things and with the violet of distant hilltops. Also the exquisite "clouded AMBERS" that reveal the hues of an after-shower sun as it bursts through hazy mists, till shafts of light, like those in some ancient Cathedral painting, make miracles of trifles and turn the very air to gauzy gold, at times dim and vapory and again as deep and delicious as rare old AMMONTILLADO.

The BLUES are many and varied—lovely as April skies, as delightful as pervenche tones, or deeply azure, gallant and valiant; there are wonders in ciel-rouge, in rose-pourpre, in ombre shadings, while the subtly elusive bois-de-rose, immensely swagger Chataignier, and many others as ravissante, drip from Vogue's palette at WEINBERGERS. Combined with these with the ultra chic that is WEINBERGERS, one glimpses the argent gleaming of silver lace, the mined fire of copper tints and the illuminated glowing of broche gold, in GOWNS whose unadorned loveliness is the radiance of the fabric itself.

The firm of WEINBERGERS consists of MR. and MRS. MAURICE WEINBERGER, and their brother, MR. HENRI WEINBERGER and in them Atlanta will not only discover Fashion experts, trained artists and distinguished designers, but likewise delightful personalities whom it is a pleasure to know, to consult and to cultivate.

Where Southern Hospitality Is a Store Policy

An Editorial

BY JAMES WALLEN

A biographer relates that "Chippendale always made his patrons thoroughly welcome and comfortable, and his ship became to all intents a kind of club amid the engaging settings of chairs in the Gothic taste, Chinese sofas, Louis Quinze secretaries and the like."

It is a fact that the good people of Atlanta and the south feel as free to enjoy the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose store as did the London folk the shop in St. Martin's Lane.

Southern hospitality is more than a legend in this house. It is a large part of the day's routine. It hovers over the store like sunshine.

There is no substitute for the homely virtue of friendliness. It colors all of life with the tincture of kindly thought.

A commercial institution can be comradely. It may radiate the warmth of devotion to service.

These truths form a part of the store policy of Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose. They are woven into the brocade of the store creed.

Above all, in this store, hospitality is not a mere play of manners. It controls even the valuation of goods. It insures to the patron a full measure of quality.

Georgia Tech Has New Organization.

The initial meeting of the Woman's auxiliary of the Georgia School of Technology took place Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Georgia Tech Y. M. C. A. building.

It had been asked when an auxiliary was first suggested what the work of such an organization would be. It was explained yesterday afternoon in a way that left no doubt as to the need of an auxiliary and the good that can and will be accomplished.

Margaret Sanders, president of the Pan Hellenic Council fraternity, told what it means to have the aid of an organized body of earnest, educated women who are always ready to "stand by" when the college men want to put something over. Mr. Sanders made it plain that the college man appreciates the auxiliary.

"Biff" Farnsworth, senior and Tech football star, gave a graphic story as to what he thought an auxiliary could do for the "fellows."

Zach Theison, secretary of alumni, spoke from the alumni standpoint and gave several vital reasons for the creation of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Catherine Connerat, president of the woman's board of Oglethorpe university, an organization that is recognized all over the country as having accomplished great things for Oglethorpe university, gave some of the experiences of the Oglethorpe board

DAILY CALENDAR OF SOCIAL EVENTS

The marriage of Miss Constance Cone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Cone, and Trenton Tunnell will take place at 8:30 o'clock at the Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church.

Miss Mary Shedden, a popular bride-elect, will be central figure at a bridge-luncheon at which Mrs. Humphrey Wagar will entertain at her home on Peachtree street.

Mrs. H. F. West will be hostess at luncheon, complimenting Miss Frances Dossett, of Waco, Texas, the guest of Miss Sue Browne Sterne.

Miss Mary McCarty will honor Miss Lucille Stone and her guest, Miss Jean Williamson, of Memphis, Tenn., at an informal luncheon at her home on Piedmont avenue.

Mrs. Thomas W. Darrah will entertain at her home in Ansley Park, complimenting Mrs. Moor N. Falls, of St. Augustine, Fla., and Mrs. A. C. Shallenberger, of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Phillip Ammons will give a bridge-party at the East Lake Country club, honoring Miss Martha Boykin.

Mrs. George West will be hostess at a bridge-tea at her home on Rosedale road, complimenting Miss Oda Teabeau, a bride-elect.

Mrs. George Breitenbuecher will entertain at a bridge-supper at her home on Fifteenth street, honoring Miss Margaret Fraleigh, of Madison, Fla., the guest of Miss Isabel Breitenbuecher.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Malcolm V. Fortier and Lieutenant and Mrs. Loren F. Parnley will entertain with a dance at the Officers' club this evening.

Colonel and Mrs. Weber will entertain at supper preceding the dance at the Officers' club at Fort McPherson this evening.

Colonel and Mrs. William J. Kendrick will entertain at dinner this evening for Congressman and Mrs. H. C. Shallenberger, of Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan McNeil, Sr., will entertain at a rehearsal party this evening at their home in Marietta in honor of Miss Virginia Boston and Frank Harwell, Jr., of Atlanta, whose marriage will be an event of Wednesday evening at the First Methodist church in Marietta.

Opera musical at Atlanta Woman's club this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Miss Callie Orme will be hostess today at luncheon at 1:30 o'clock at her home on Peachtree street in honor of Miss Vera Layton, Miss Agnes Layton, of Westchester, N. Y.; Miss Violet Spencer, of Washington, D. C., the guest of Mrs. Samuel Weyman.

In its beginning and the joy of having a part in the university affairs and life of the students and faculty.

An important factor in the organization of the auxiliary, from the school standpoint, is acquiring of a permanent endowment fund for the college and to this end the women will work. The welfare of students will be looked after by special student committees.

There will be a library committee, a radio committee will help the professor in charge of the weekly program, the library committee will try to secure additional books, the hospital committee will consult with physicians and nurses and do much to cheer the sick and lonely student, and the entertainment committee will find much to do in helping the students with the entertainments for which Tech is famous. The scholarship committee will help in securing additional funds for scholarships to help boys who are working their way through school.

It has been suggested that the auxiliary will be a means of assimilating the faculty and their families into the life of the city. The ladies of the faculty have their own organization but Atlantans desire to know these cultured women, who often remain strangers, knowing only the families of the faculty.

Atlantans Return From Horse Show.

The horse show at Augusta attracted many prominent Atlantans for the week-end, many of whom motored down for the social event on last Friday.

Among those who have returned to Atlanta are Miss Anne Stringfellow, Miss Mary Anne Lipscomb, Miss Mary Ballinger, Miss Douglas Paine, Miss Isabel Hunter, Miss Marjorie McLeod, Miss Ellen Wolff, Miss Marjorie Lathrop, Mrs. Wilsbire Riley, Mrs. Stacey Earnest Hill, Mrs. C. Eyes Tell Story Of Inner Ambition, Says Beauty Expert

Madame Ida Chernoff, noted beauty specialist who will lecture every day this week at Rich's at 3 o'clock—fourth floor, says: "What persons want to be told is their eyes; what they are shown by their mouths. From the dim glances when poets chanted of the blue eyes of Helen, fairest of the fair, the eyes of women have been one of the chief concerns of women. Sapphire blue or hazel brown, sloe black, or amethystine violet, or yet, whisper green, the eyes are willed to thoroughly indicate how she coquetting in their depths. In her public lectures she never fails to emphasize the potency of a woman's eyes or to thoroughly indicate how she may convert them into a deadly asset.

Few women know that eyes which are round in shape should avoid the small, hairless hat, or the hat with very round narrow brim, since this accentuates the roundness of the eyes and may give even them the fatal effect of slightly protruding. Neither do many women know that the over narrow eye needs the aid of the off-the-face roll brim and that the mail of oval eyes will make a most gracious gesture of charm by affecting hair.

Madame Chernoff is most appreciative of the charm of the eyes. She herself is the possessor of a pair of roguish eyes with a sparkle of laughter coquetting in their depths. In her public lectures she never fails to emphasize the potency of a woman's eyes or to thoroughly indicate how she may convert them into a deadly asset.

Mrs. DuPree Gives Elaborate Party At Marietta Home

Mrs. Harry DuPree entertained Monday evening at her home in Marietta in compliment to Miss Virginia Boston and Frank Harwell, whose marriage will be a fashionable event of Wednesday evening in Marietta.

Other honor guests of the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McNeil, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan McNeil and Mrs. Kay Green Dunning, of Chicago. Both bridge and dancing were enjoyed, the guests assembling in the spacious ballroom at 11 o'clock, where a buffet supper was served.

Vases and baskets of exquisite spring flowers from the garden of the home were artistically arranged throughout the reception rooms.

Mrs. DuPree wore a handsome gown of white sequins.

Miss Boston's gown of rose-pink crepe was hand-painted in roses to match.

Twenty-Second Infantry Will Hold Organization Day at Fort

On Monday, March 31, the Twenty-second Infantry, stationed at Fort McPherson, will celebrate organization day. This event, formerly held in July, has been set at an earlier date on account of the troops leaving for camp at Camp McClellan.

From 9 to 12:30 o'clock and from 1 to 2:15 o'clock on Monday the time will be occupied with a varied program of track and field events, in which the entire Twenty-second Infantry will take part. A silver cup will be awarded to the winning organization and the day will be filled with many gala events. At 2:30 o'clock there will be a baseball game between the teams of the Twenty-second Infantry and the Federal Prison.

A boxing exhibition will be staged in the evening, beginning at 8:15 o'clock. There will be an all-star card. The program of events will extend over to Tuesday, March 31. From 8:30 to 1 o'clock in the evening there will be an elaborate enlisted men's hop. The programs for the dance will be attractive souvenirs, bearing display advertisements from the leading business firms of the city.

The track and field meets will be of interest to a wide circle of Atlantans who will motor out and "organization day" promises to provide a complete program of entertainment and amusement.

At the meeting of the athletic association on Thursday, the following new officers were elected: President, Colonel D. W. Ryther; vice president, Major T. G. Hines; business manager, Captain A. R. Bolling; secretary and treasurer, Captain C. F. E. Cooper; field manager, First Lieutenant H. G. Boettcher.

On Sunday, March 29, at 2 o'clock there will be a baseball match between the Twenty-second Infantry team and the Atlanta All-Star team. At 4 o'clock the Twenty-second Infantry team will meet the Governor's Horse guards' team in a match.

seemled near the Spanish landscapes exhibit of Marjorie Conant George-Brown's paintings at the Atlanta Woman's club on Sunday.

Mrs. St. Gaudens, a noted guest in the city, and a visitor to the gallery Sunday, expressed her appreciation of the landscapes. She thought them quite modernistic in color treatment.

Mrs. Bush-Brown painted these lovely scenes last summer, while in Spain. Among other places, she spent some time on the island of Mallorca, just off the coast of Spain. A group of artists of many nationalities gathered here each summer in the little fishing village of Pollensa.

Mrs. Bush-Brown's delightful landscapes makes one long to be an artist eligible to the privilege of living among distinguished men and women of the art world in such a charming corner of old Spain.

1925 Opera Class Presents Mrs. Jackson And Hugh Hodgson

One of the most delightful affairs of the week was the interpretation of "Tosca" on Monday in the Spanish room of the Henry Grady hotel.

Mrs. H. M. Atkinson, presiding patroness of the 1925 opera class, presented Mrs. Earl Sherwood Jackson, interpreter, and Hugh Hodgson, concert pianist, such the first of the series of seven operas to be given here this season.

In each of these operas Mrs. Jackson wears costumes of the period in which the action of the drama takes place. Monday she was a most exquisite "Tosca" wearing an empire gown of rare old lace, over a foundation of turquoise blue tulle with bodice and tiny puff sleeves of flesh chiffon. The bodice was finished with dainty hand-made flowers in pastel shades. In her lovely brown hair were strands of pearls.

The lovely Spanish room in the handsome new Henry Grady hotel, lends itself most beautifully to occasions of this nature. Its atmosphere of quietude, elegance and charm makes a fitting background for the handsomely gowned assembly.

An ovation was given Mrs. Jackson and Mr. Hodgson.

Miss Adrienne Battey, one of the south's most talented daughters gives out the following interesting interview:

"With the origin of opera readings, I rated Mrs. Earl Sherwood Jackson's voice the loveliest southern sound until I heard Hugh Hodgson play. Now only the happy chance of hearing them together in a series of non-musical dramas, spares me the embarrassment of choosing between two ardent and equal admirations."

"The quality of Mrs. Jackson's diction and the finesse of Mr. Hodgson's musicianship blended in 'Tosca' with a harmony that such combinations rarely approximate. The professional dispatch with which they presented the musical and dramatic content of three acts with brief explanatory preface, in less than two hours, is also noteworthy."

"Aside from the sheer joy of esthetic indulgence, a prior claim upon the public's recognition and support of this opera class occurs to me. The songbirds of the Metropolitan swoop down upon Atlanta in all their brilliant plumage for a single week. That the company does not 'open cold,' as the saying in the theater goes, is largely due to the advance efforts of resident artists, such as Mrs. Jackson and Mr. Hodgson, who do the pioneer work."

"Welcome as the Metropolitan's annual visit is, the stimulating influence of foreign talent comes and goes. Atlanta's own musicians and dramatic interpreters are working unceasingly in and for this community. If we would retain their expanding powers for the permanent enrichment of our cultural life, let us greet every appearance of representative southern artists like Hugh Hodgson and Dora Hood Jackson with the S. R. O. sign, lest more ambitious fields allure them to our loss."

"Seasoned opera-goers will not miss this series, and others must not." "Falstaff," the exquisite production of Verdi will be interpreted by Mrs. Jackson and Hugh Hodgson on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in the Spanish room at the Henry Grady hotel.

Visitors will be admitted to the class upon the payment of one dollar at the door.

Mrs. E. W. More, class treasurer will be present to issue tickets.

Mrs. Upchurch To Sponsor Dance.

On Saturday, March 28, a dance will be given on the Cecil hotel roof garden, sponsored by Mrs. R. Z. Upchurch. In addition to the dancing, Conklin's Harmonizers orchestra will render special features of entertainment.

Miss Lucile Beagle, talented and graceful dancer, will introduce an Oriental and jazz number. Miss Emily Satterfield and Miss Gladys Hall, both talented young artists, will be received with much interest in their original jazz.

W. Banks, Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Elkin, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Chandler, Miss Dorothy Chandler and others.

Mrs. S. M. de Loffre, of Washington, D. C., who has been the guest of Colonel and Mrs. Dashiell at the Atlanta Woman's club Monday afternoon. Dr. Lovridge spoke of the wonderful growth and progress of many things in life: the growth of the little flower; the growth and progress made in transportation, growth in religion, tending toward the people thinking more of religion as a thing which leads to one great end, instead of the study of different doctrines and creeds.

Dr. Lovridge brought out that there were two characteristics in thought, one being velocity and the other attraction or magnetism. There are two kinds of thought, also, according to the speaker, one being constructive, which brings about hope, joy, etc., and destructive thought, which is jealousy, hatred, etc., which stands for wealth.

Dr. Lovridge closed her remarks with the assurance that thought might be controlled in two ways: by getting consciousness of God and another by prayer, for "Prayer is the soul's sincere desire," quoted the speaker in closing.

Mrs. Norman Sharp, president of the club, presided over the meeting and introduced the speaker. Resolutions were read by Mrs. D. E. Stevenson, in the absence of the resolutions chairman, Mrs. George Obear, asking for an endorsement of the action of council in providing inoculation for all licensed dogs against rabies, as a protection for both citizens and valuable dogs; a second resolution asking the county commissioners to grade "Candle field," so as to prepare for the landing of aeroplanes. Program of Music.

A delightful feature of the afternoon was the program of music, given by the Atlanta Music Club chorus, composed of about 25 voices, with Miss Lula Clarke King as director and Mrs. Thad Morrison, accompanist, assisted by Miss Agnes Adams, violinist. Among the attractive numbers given were "Night," by Golsen; "Swan," by Saint Suen, with violin obligato, by Miss Adams; "Bridal Chorus," by Cowen; "Annie Laurie," by Buck. Each selection was beautifully rendered and the club members were very appreciative of the program.

Mrs. Wren McGuire, one of Atlanta's most charming dramatic readers, gave several very attractive selections, among which were "Uncle Ephraim's Heaven," a dialect reading, and a very interesting impersonation of a little girl. Mrs. McGuire has been very generous in giving her beautiful programs for the Atlanta Woman's club.

ISLE OF PINES TREATY FORMALLY ACCEPTED

Washington, March 23.—Formal exchange of ratifications of the Isle of Pines treaty took place today at the state department, Secretary Kellogg and Ambassador Torriente affixing their signatures to the document on behalf of the American and Cuban governments.

The exchange was made after Ambassador Torriente had advised the state department that his government had accepted the reservation and understanding adopted by the senate in its resolution of ratification.

"The Young Rajah" To Be Played At Children's Matinee

Recommended by the national better films board and also by the national board of review, Rudolph Valentino comes to the young people's matinee at the Howard Saturday in "The Young Rajah," presented by the Atlanta better films committee.

"The Young Rajah" is a most appealing picture, suitable to all ages, and especially to young people. The theme starts with the young potentate from India, when he is smuggled out of his native land, to escape death, and adopted by a kindly New England farmer. Priceless rubies he brings with him, enable him to secure a college education. Exciting boat racing scenes and college functions bring in the spirit of college life, which is contrasted with mystic occurrences in India which foretell his return to rescue his native land.

Possessing the gift of prophecy, he is able to forestall several attempts on his life, and through a series of thrilling events he at last reaches happiness. Valentino's acting is of the highest and his many admirers in Atlanta, among the younger set, will embrace this opportunity to see him. The picture is a Paramount, taken from the book of "Amos Judd" written by John Ames Mitchell.

Rounding out the feature picture, which is a long one of eight reels, is a "Felix, the Cat," comedy, in which Felix "follows the swallow." An interesting prolog, secured by Miss Nell Enloe, prolog chairman, will be announced later. Mrs. W. L. McCall, and her coworkers from the Atlanta Parent-Teacher association, assisted by Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, will have charge of chaperoning and ushering. The program starts at 9:30 o'clock and admission is 10 cents.

HIS BAD HEADACHES SOON HEADED OFF

Sufferers from sick headaches frequently do not know that this symptom, with which at times almost every one is troubled, is often due to poisons in the body that have not been taken care of properly, on account of constipation or a torpid liver.

Such sufferers will be interested in the following story by Mr. Jeff Jervis, of Endicott, Ky., telling how he found relief from his own disorders.

"I began having severe headaches," says Mr. Jervis, "I can't tell just how they would begin, but soon my head felt like it would split open and I would be so sick I felt like I was paralyzed."

"I would have shooting pains in my neck and, if I turned my head, I felt like it would crack at my neck. My eyeballs were sore and I would vomit. I would be 'torn to pieces' for a day or two. I would take headache medicine and feel so queer afterwards I'd be scared. I didn't feel right—I felt numb."

In spite of these distressing symptoms, Mr. Jervis was soon to find relief through following the wise advice of a friend. To use his own words—

"I was telling a neighbor and he said, 'Get some Black-Draught and take a big dose when you feel a headache coming on.' I did it and took a few doses each night."

"Soon I had these headaches headed off. Now it is very seldom that I have one at all. I just keep Black-Draught and use it when I need it. I don't let myself get constipated."

Thedford's Black-Draught has been found to relieve sick headaches in thousands of cases that were due to constipation or a torpid liver. Containing no mineral drugs, it acts gently, helping the organs to drive out the poisons and regain a state of healthy activity.

Black-Draught has been in successful use for 80 years.

Unlike Any Story You Have Ever Read

The Lost World

BY SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE

SYNOPSIS.

A young London newspaper reporter is rejected by the girl he loves on the ground that he has no heroic accomplishments to his credit. She wants to marry "a man of great deeds and strange experience," she says. The reporter, determined to win her, decides to go in search of adventure.

CHAPTER II.

"Try Your Luck With Professor Challenger."

I always liked McArdle, the crabbed, old, round-backed, head-headed news editor, and I rather hoped that he liked me. Of course, Beaumont was the real boss; but he lived in the rarefied atmosphere of some Olympian height from which he could distinguish nothing smaller than an international crisis or a split in the cabinet. Sometimes we saw him passing in lonely majesty to his inner sanctum, with his eyes staring vaguely and his mind hovering over the Balkans or the Persian gulf. He was above and beyond us. But McArdle was his first lieutenant, and it was he that I knew. The old man nodded as I entered the room, and he pushed his spectacles far up on his bald forehead.

"Well, Mr. Malone, from all I hear, you seem to be doing very well," said he in his kindly Scotch accent.

I thanked him.

"The colliery explosion was excellent. So was the Southwark fire. You have the true descriptive touch. What did you want to see me about?"

"To ask a favor."

"He looked alarmed, and his eyes shinned mine. 'Tut, tut! What is it?'"

"Do you think, sir, that you could possibly send me on some mission for the paper? I would do my best to put it through and get you some good copy."

"What sort of mission had you in your mind, Mr. Malone?"

"Well, sir, anything that had adventure and danger in it. I really would do my very best. The more difficult it was, the better it would suit me."

"You seem very anxious to lose your life."

"To justify my life, sir."

"Dear me, Mr. Malone, this is very—very excited. I'm afraid the day for this sort of thing is rather past. The expense of the 'special mission' business hardly justifies the result, and, of course, in any case it would only be an experienced man with a name that would command public confidence who would get such an order. The big blank spaces in the champion liar, which is the more probable supposition. Had some dam-map are all being filled in, and there's no room for romance anywhere. Wait a bit, though!" he added, with a sudden smile upon his face. "Talking of the blank spaces of the map gives me an idea. What about exposing a fraud—a modern Munchausen—and making him ridiculous? You could show him up as the liar that he is! Eh, man, it would be fine. How does it appeal to you?"

"Anything—anywhere—I care nothing."

McArdle was plunged in thought for some minutes.

"I wonder whether you could get on friendly—or at least on talking terms with the fellow," he said at last. "You seem to have a sort of genius for establishing relations with people—sympathy, I suppose, or animal magnetism, or youthful vitality, or something. I am conscious of it myself."

"You are very good, sir."

"So why should you not try your luck with Professor Challenger, of Enmore Park?"

I dare say I looked a little startled.

"Challenger?" I cried. "Professor Challenger, the famous zoologist? Wasn't he the man who broke the skull of Blundell, of The Telegraph?"

The news editor smiled grimly.

"Do you mind? Didn't you say it was adventures you were after?"

aged photographs, said to be fakes. Got so touchy that he assaults anyone who asks questions, and heaves reporters down the stairs. In my opinion, he's just a homicidal megalomaniac with a turn for science. That's your man, Mr. Malone. Now, off you run, and see what you can make of him. You're big enough to look after yourself. Any way, you are all safe. Employers' liability act, you know."

A grinning red face turned once more into a pink oval, fringed with gingery fluff; the interview was at an end.

I walked across to the Savage club, but instead of turning into it I leaned upon the railings of Adelphi Terrace and gazed thoughtfully for a long time at the brown, oily river. I can always think most sanely and clearly in the open air. I took out the list of Professor Challenger's exploits, and I read it over under the electric lamp. Then I had what I can only regard as an inspiration. As a pressman, I felt sure from what I had been told that I could never hope to get into touch with this contumacious professor. But these recriminations, twice mentioned in his skeleton biography, could only mean that he was a fanatic in science. Was there not an exposed margin there upon which he might be accessible? I would try.

Are They All Like That? Allan, aged three, was being undressed by sister a few years older.

"Mamma, just look at his stomach," said sister.

"Yes, 'tis rather large," said mother, absent-mindedly.

"Oh, Gee! Mamma!" said sister.

FINNAN-HADDIE FISHING OFF THE HEBRIDES.

By Dr. Walter E. Traprock.

People wonder why the finnan-haddie, sometimes wrongly called the "haddock," is so seldom seen on our menus. The answer lies in the great danger in getting these wily denizens of the deep.

Their favorite waters are the treacherous channels among the Hebrides, on the north coast of Scotland. In this region of perpetual storm, steam-trawlers are doomed to destruction. The fisherman's only hope lies in the small craft known as "cockles," which are so light they are frequently tossed from the crest of one wave to another. In fact, I have often caught splendid fish while my boat was in mid-air. This, however, is dangerous.

During my last trip to the finnan-haddie grounds I planned a new method of catching them. I had noticed that when our tiny craft was in the vortex between two waves that I could distinctly see the finnan-haddies sporting in the crests above me, their great bodies, silhouetted against the sky back of them. The next time I went out I took an express rifle. I began potting the finnan-haddies as they rose above me. It was hard shooting from a most dangerous footing, but I drilled 20 of the beggars, and we brought in a record catch.

I missed only one, the bullet puncturing another boat which was on the other side of the wave. This was regrettable but, as my boatman said, "A rare excuseable under the circumstances."

Circumstantial Evidence.

"Has your wife bought her Easter bonnet yet?"

"Apparently not. At any rate I'm still insolvent."

New York, March 23.—The cotton market was lower with new crop reports in southwest Texas. May contracts sold off to 25.25 and closed at 25.25, the general market closing steadily at net declines of 10 to 35 points.

The opening was easy at a decline of 25 to 35 points in response to relatively easy cables and the Texas

rain news. Active months sold about 20 to 50 points net lower in the first few minutes under heavy offerings,

but a good demand for the break which checked the decline and there were rallies of 10 to 15 points at midday.

Offerings increased on the bulges,

however, and while there was enough

trade buying of May to check the decline around or just before 25.25,

new crop deliveries made new low prices for the day in late trading.

October declining to 24.52. The general list at this time showed net losses of 33 to 55 points, and the close was 13 to 17 points up from the lowest on closing.

No unusual rains were reported in west and north Texas, but the belief was that the rainfall in the earlier producing sections had been sufficient to give the Texas crop a good start, and the sellers argued that there might yet be timely rains over the remainder of the drought area.

Liverpool cables reported limitation and other selling on the Texas cable, and during the afternoon the market for Egyptian cotton. The decline locally was attributed chiefly to better weather news.

TREND LOWER

AT NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, March 23.—The cotton market worked irregularly low in today's trading, fluctuations were rather wider than in the morning.

Trading proved to be more active during the greater part of the day. Owing to much lower Liverpool cables than the market here started with a loss of 34 points on July and 25 on October, and soon after the opening it showed a loss of 42 points and October from 48. From Saturday's close, while the old crop months did not make fresh, Liverpool cables had 24 points net lower and December 35

during the afternoon.

The main reasons for the decline were fairly good showers in southern

Texas coupled with lower Liverpool cables, and during the afternoon the rumors of rain in north Texas again caused weakness, following a fair rally around noon. The weakness trading the afternoon was helped by the unsettled condition of the stock market and ease in wheat.

There was a fair rally in the late trading, which cut down the loss materially on old crop months, but the moderately on new crop positions, due to a rumor that the government report on the emergence of weevils from hibernation would mean a sharp tomorrow and would prove bullish.

All months rallied in the late trading, particularly the old crop positions, and the close showed net losses of 15 to 24 points on old crop months and 19 to 41 points on new crop months.

Exports for the day were light, totaling only 7,690 bales.
